Guide To Notes 29 Renaissance History Alive:

Living concepts Marleen Reichgelt e.a., 2021-10-28 How do concepts such as the body intimacy adventure and intersectionality shape our engagement with gender history In this 40th anniversary edition of the Yearbook we revisit the question how concepts live in gender research practices and what it means to do gender history in 2021 Contributors include experienced researchers who have spent years sometimes decades contemplating the conceptual background of their work as well as scholars who have come to the field more recently and who therefore provide a different insight As such this Yearbook shows how certain concepts travel within academic culture across the Low Countries revealing not so much the theoretical underpinnings of the field but rather how these theoretical underpinnings find a home in individual research practices and may be used in surprising ways

since the beginning of our nation's history From early immigrants sharing the sounds of their native lands to contemporary artists performing benefit concerts for social causes our country's musical expressions reflect where we as a people have been as well as our hope for the future This four volume encyclopedia examines music's influence on contemporary American life tracing historical connections over time Music in American Life An Encyclopedia of the Songs Styles Stars and Stories That Shaped Our Culture demonstrates the symbiotic relationship between this art form and our society Entries include singers composers lyricists songs musical genres places instruments technologies music in films music in political realms and music shows on television

Early Orientalism Ivan Kalmar, 2013-06-17 The history of western notions about Islam is of obvious scholarly as well as popular interest today This book investigates Christian images of the Muslim Middle East focusing on the period from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment when the nature of divine as well as human power was under particularly intense debate in the West Ivan Kalmar explores how the controversial notion of submission to ultimate authority has in the western world been discussed with reference to Islam's alleged recommendation to obey unquestioningly a merciless Allah in heaven and a despotic government on earth He discusses how Abrahamic faiths Christianity and Judaism as much as Islam demand devotion to a sublime power with the faith that this power loves and cares for us a concept that brings with it the fear that on the contrary this power only toys with us for its own enjoyment For such a power Kalmar borrows Slavoj Žižek's term obscene father He discusses how this describes exactly the western image of the Oriental despot Allah in heaven and the various sultans emirs and ayatollahs on earth and how these despotic personalities of imagined Muslim society function as a projection from the West on to the Muslim Orient of an existential anxiety about sublime power Making accessible academic debates on the history of Christian perceptions of Islam and on Islam and the West this book is an important addition to the existing literature in the areas of Islamic studies religious history and philosophy

Journal of Education, 1884

Neo-Victorian Humour, 2017-06-06 This volume highlights humour's crucial role in shaping historical re-visionings of the long nineteenth century through modes ranging from subtle irony camp excess ribald farce and aesthetic parody to blackly comic narrative games It analyses neo-Victorian humour's politicisation its ideological functions and ethical implications across varied media including fiction drama film webcomics and fashion Contemporary humour maps the assumed distance between postmodernity and its targeted nineteenth century referents only to repeatedly collapse the same in a seemingly self-defeating nihilistic project This collection explores how neo-Victorian humour generates empathy and effective socio-political critique dispensing symbolic justice but also risks recycling the past's invidious ideologies under the politically correct guise of comic debunking even to the point of negating laughter itself This rich and innovative collection invites us to reflect on the complex and various deployments of humour in neo Victorian texts where its consumers may wish at times that they could swallow back the laughter a scene or event provokes It covers a range of approaches to humour utilised by neo Victorian writers dramatists graphic novelists and filmmakers including the deliberately and pompously unfunny the traumatic the absurd the ribald and the frankly distasteful producing a richly satisfying anthology of innovative readings of canonical neo Victorian texts as well as those which are potential generic outliers The collection explores what is funny in the neo Victorian and who we are laughing at the Victorians as we like to imagine them or ourselves in ways we rarely acknowledge This is a celebration of the parodic playfulness of a wide range of texts from fiction to fashion whilst offering a trenchant critique of the politics of postmodern laughter that will appeal to those working in adaptation studies gender and queer studies as well as literary and cultural studies more generally Prof Imelda Whelehan University of Tasmania Australia
