Gettysburg Address

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this globe, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is for us the living, the dead who have already paid the ultimate sacrifice, that we here dedicate this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, can never forget what they did here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the unfinished work which they here advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the unfinished work which they here advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the unfinished work which they here advanced.
