Last Salute English Edition:

The Dog of Tithwal Saadat Hasan Manto, 2021-09-14 Manto's empathy and narrative economy invite comparisons with Chekhov. These readable idiomatic translations have all the agile swiftness and understated poignancy that parallel suggests Boyd Tonkin. Wall Street Journal. Stories from the undisputed master of the modern Indian short story encircling the marginalized forgotten lives of Bombay set against the backdrop of the India Pakistan Partition. Salman Rushdie. By far the most comprehensive collection of stories by this 20th Century master available in English. A master of the short story Saadat Hasan Manto opens a window onto Bombay's demimonde: its prostitutes, rickshaw drivers, artists, and strays, as well, probing the pain and bewilderment of the Hindus, Muslims, and Sikhs ripped apart by the India Pakistan Partition. Manto is best known for his dry-eyed examination of the violence, horrors, and reverberations from the Partition. From a stray dog caught in the crossfire at the fresh border of India and Pakistan to friendly neighbors turned enemy soldiers pausing for tea together in a momentary cease-fire, Manto shines incandescent light into hidden corners with an unflinching gaze and a fierce humanism. With a foreword by Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Vijay Seshadri, these stories are essential reading for our current moment where divisiveness is erupting into violence in so many parts of the world. Our Final Salute Jay Schofield, 2012-04-27 Introduction. A Trip to Canada, September 3, 1944. On the above date, two brothers, Jay and Win Schofield, briefly crossed the Canadian border from New York to gather a few documents, then return to America. Why? Each needed naturalized citizen status to join the U.S. Army. Jay, at twenty-five, and Win, ten years older, were both drafted and eager to serve their country in what would be World War II. Two other brothers, Llew and Brent, had already become eligible. The required documentation for Jay and Win were requisites to prove they were born in the province of Nova Scotia, Canada, some twenty years earlier. It would have been a simple matter of simply asking for their respective birth certificates, getting sworn in, and packing for boot camp. It got complicated. In Halifax, there had been a fire around the time of their family's migration to America, destroying their birth records. Jay and Win got their desired status and entered the military. My Life Went On. That story was related to me back in the 1950s, but in typical fashion of a self-absorbed teen rebel, I saw little value in the story. Like most boys that age, my immediate focal points were: What's for supper? or Did the Red Sox win last night? or Who'll be my date for Friday's record hop? I mean, Really? That war happened when I was a few months old. What value could it have to me? How wrong I was. The years went by, including college, marriage, family, and work. Buried in the background of my thinking lingered the question about the brothers' Canadian visit and what changes the family had undergone before and after that point. It became even more of a topic considering today's America's red-hot immigration issue with the Mexican border. What would compel family members back then to fight for their adopted country? Today, Canada has become America's forgotten northern border, while our southern Mexican border captures most of the national interest. We hear of both electronic and structural fences, our National Guard's involvement, a drug war with Mexican cartels, and wanton illegal crossings bringing murders of America's border states citizens Regrets For Sure In 1980 the urgency to ask my dad family questions became more critical following his cancer diagnosis Hoping to make up for lost time I suggested nine years later I write his life story An endless barrage of questions while he was undergoing the ravages of invasive cancer treatment would prove tiresome Despite repeated chemical invasions he persevered For the first time I witnessed him crying as he related his mother s undying dedication while she helped him memorize his lines before his high school performance The Mikado Even today I can hear my dad s tears on that tape as he confirmed he never missed a line Dad shared his family s work ethic getting to the job despite sickness or hard times They toiled at multiple often menial jobs providing for their four sons and daughter He spoke lovingly of his parents including his dad dying in 1951 and then losing his mom nine years later Those tapes provided me long lasting insights and inspiration I learned elders are eager to share their lives if someone asked the right questions Thrilled to tip over that first domino I knew the interviews had built his story s foundation Although he was a rookie at dying I was a rookie at writing yet we both persisted like veterans In a few months his life story formed I transcribed the interview did parallel research and crafted his memoirs the best an emerging author could The process and the result brought us unparalleled joy Upon completion he read and re read the story then gushed on about how much he appreciated my effort He died knowing his life story would be saved and passed down Infected with a Memoirs Schofield history bug I vowed to carry on Filling In Some Blanks The family questions however gnawed at me I wanted

Cross-Channel Modernisms Claire Davison, 2020-03-27 Explores modernist aesthetics and cultural exchange in Britain France and beyond Offers cutting edge explorations of different aspects of artistic exchange between Britain and France written by experts on both sides of the Channel Provides original close readings of canonical and marginalised modernist texts Opens up new conceptual paradigms by probing multiple meanings related to crossing and channelling modernism Organises chapters around three key themes of translating fashioning mediating that intervene in the new modernist studies Described by Katherine Mansfield in 1921 as a great cold sword between you and your dear love Adventure in the early twentieth century the English Channel or La Manche in French represented both a political and intellectual barrier between European avant gardism and British restraint and a bridge for cultural connection and aesthetic innovation Organised around key terms Translating Fashioning and Mediating this book presents ten original essays by scholars working on both sides of the Channel Cross Channel Modernisms historicises artistic exchanges in Britain France and beyond and proposes a rich conceptual apparatus of crossings and channels through which we can read modernism and understand it as emerging from and intervening in an always already shifting multivalent international context

The American Catalogue, 1911 American national trade bibliography Britain's sea-kings and sea-fights Britain, 1900 This Country of Ours: The Story of the United States Henrietta Elizabeth Marshall, 2023-12-16 In This Country of Ours: The Story of the United States Henrietta Elizabeth Marshall presents an engaging narrative that chronicles the history of the United States through a blend of factual storytelling and vivid imagery Written in a captivating and accessible literary style the book captures the spirit of American life from its earliest days to the early 20th century emphasizing key events influential figures and the evolving identity of the nation Marshall s work is set against the backdrop of both American folklore and scholarly historical narratives making it a unique contribution to children s literature and educational history that aims to inspire curiosity about the nation s past in young readers Henrietta Elizabeth Marshall a prominent author and educator born in the late 19th century dedicated her life to creating accessible historical texts for children Her deep rooted belief in the power of storytelling as a pedagogical tool led her to write this comprehensive account stemming from her experiences as an educator and a keen observer of cultural narratives Marshall s intent was not merely to recount facts but to instill a sense of pride and understanding regarding the American story Highly recommended for educators parents and young readers alike This Country of Ours serves as a captivating introduction to American history Marshall s engaging prose and emphasis on heroism and democracy make it an essential read for anyone interested in fostering an appreciation for the past and the ideals that shaped the United States

STUCK ABOVE GROUND Philip Pecoraro,2023-03-09 Life death and the place that lies between them Is there a fate worse than death Michael Jack Lajoie never expected to be a prisoner inside his own body But after being declared clinically dead following a routine surgical procedure he finds himself trapped between the living world and the hereafter With the ability to blend in among the living he wanders through his previous life searching for clues and finding no answers until contacted While Jack s wife Ellen sleeps inside their home an intruder enters and draws Jack inside The intruder Paul Jennings a coalition member is seeking to find the rest of his experimental group that has gone missing and the person responsible for their condition Dr Phillipe Sixto The doctor who has gone into hiding developed an experimental serum to allow terminally ill patients to continue living absent biological needs until medical science finds a cure The coalition members a select group of elected government officials and entrepreneur billionaires linked to the doctor now seek to find the harvested group at any cost for a secret mission Sacrifice and Modern War Writing Alex Houen,2024-09-05 Sacrifice and Modern War Writing presents the most extensive study to date of twentieth and twenty first century war writing Examining works by over 110 authors Alex Houen surveys how war writing explores sacrifice in relation to major modern and contemporary conflicts from the First World War to the War on Terror Various conceptions of sacrifice are examined including Christian Jewish Islamic and secular The discussion ranges across literary portrayals of multiple sacrificial practices including ancient rituals of child sacrifice martyrdom scapegoating and suicide bombing Houen builds an innovative interdisciplinary approach to how war sacrifice and their representations interrelate and a wide range of Anglophone literature is discussed including novels memoirs short stories essays manifestoes elegies ballads and lyric poetry Whereas critics and theorists have tended to emphasize that war s reality exceeds any attempt to represent it Houen contends that political religious and cultural frames of sacrifice have continued to play a significant part in shaping how war s reality is shaped and experienced Those frames are inextricably tied to modes of representation which include symbolism and mimesis Sacrifice and Modern War Writing explores how sacrificial killing in war is itself riddled with symbolic transfigurations and mimetic exchanges and it builds a fresh approach by arguing that the figurative and imaginative aspects of literary writing ironically become its very means of engaging closely with the reality of war s sacrifices That approach also develops by using the literary analyses to critique and revise various prominent theories of sacrifice and war Poole's Index to Periodical Literature: 2d suppl. 1887-1892 ,1893 Transactions Of The Asiatic Society Of Japan, Volumes 1-23 Asiatic Society of Japan,1898 Transactions of the Asiatic Society of Japan ,1898 Coomassie and Magdala Henry Morton Stanley,1874 Magdala, the Story of the Abyssinian Campaign of 1866-7 Henry Morton Stanley,1896 Coomassie and Magdala Henry Stanley,2023-06-17 Reprint of the original first published in 1874 The Way-bill ,1917 This Country of Ours H.
