Martin Luther King Essay

In 1963, Martin Luther King was in jail because he wanted to defend equal rights to black people since clerymen and many the laws of the United States are attacking those rights. King went to Alabama to protest for this law because laws in that time were unfair. He thought that as long as the laws are unfair, he had the right to break them. While in jail, he wrote an extensive letter to the clerymen that accused him for creating violence. King's argument is that the laws are unjust and should be violated because if not USA would not achieve equality, and he uses many rhetorical devices including pathos, and logos to achieve it.

Logos is in mostly all of King's letter. Actual and real facts are displayed throughout his essay, so that the clerymen when reading his letter would notice truth and logic in it. One example of when Martin Luther King used Logos, was when he wanted to remark the fact that the United States of America has a constitution so that clerymen understod that the nation's constitution has really existed
