Inequality in Asia and the Pacific Ravi Kanbur,Changyong Rhee,Juzhong Zhuang,2014-02-24 Asia s rapid economic growth has led to a significant reduction in extreme poverty but accompanied by rising inequality This book deals with three questions What have been the trends of inequality in Asia and the Pacific What are the key drivers of rising inequality in the region How should Asian countries respond to the rising inequality Technological change globalization and market oriented reform have been the key drivers of Asia s remarkable growth and poverty reduction but they have also had significant distribution consequences These three drivers of growth cannot be hindered because they are the sources of productivity improvement and betterment of quality of life This book will be useful to those interested in policy options that could be deployed by Asian countries in confronting rising inequality      Paperbound Books in Print ,1983      Special Features of the UN Model Convention Anna Binder,Viktoria Wöhrer,2019-10-01 Detailed research on the UN Model Convention s unique features The UN Model Convention has a significant influence on international tax treaty practice and is especially used by emerging and developing countries as a starting point for treaty negotiations Driven by the aim to achieve consistency in the international tax treaty practice the structure and content is to a large extent similar in the UN Model and the OECD Model However whereas the OECD has historically focused its efforts on issues mainly relevant for developed countries the UN Tax Committee has continuously attempted to specifically take into account tax treaty policies for developing countries when drafting and amending the UN Model Convention Compared to the OECD Model Convention the UN Model Convention aims at giving more weight to the source principle Popular examples are the PE definition in the UN Model which provides for a lower threshold than Article 5 of the OECD Model or Article 12A on Fees for Technical Services which has been introduced with the latest amendment of the UN Model Convention 2017 and allows for a withholding tax to be levied on payments to non residents when the payer of the fee is a resident of that contracting State irrespective of where the services are provided Interestingly in the discussions of the tax challenges arising from the digitalization of the economy the OECD and the G20 are also exploring options to allocate more taxing rights to the jurisdiction of the customer and or user i e the market jurisdictions As this has traditionally been the focus of the UN Model Convention its unique features and developing countries practices could be taken into account when exploring new nexus rules that are not constrained by the physical presence requirement This book contains the master s theses of the full time LL M program 2018 2019 for which Special Features of the UN Model Convention has been chosen as the general topic With this book the authors and editors do not aim at discussing each article of the UN Model Convention but rather focus on the unique features of the UN Model Convention which are explored in detail This is supplemented with an evaluation of the function and relevance of the UN Tax Committee in the international tax policy discussion and with an analysis of the influences of the OECD s BEPS project on the UN Model

The Allocation of Multinational Business Income: Reassessing the Formulary Apportionment Option Richard Krever, 2020-02-20. The Allocation of Multinational Business Income: Reassessing the Formulary Apportionment Option. Edited by Richard Krever. Application of formulary apportionment in specific sectors such as digital enterprises and the banking industry. The political economy of establishing and maintaining a successful formulary apportionment regime. Formulary apportionment proposals for Europe. The role of traditional tax criteria such as economic efficiency, fairness, ease of administration, and robustness to avoidance and incentive compatibility. Determining which parts of a multinational group are included in a formulary apportionment unit and whether innovative profit split methodologies such as those developed by China are shifting traditional arm's length methods to a quasi-formulary apportionment system. Providing a comprehensive understanding of all aspects of the formulary apportionment option. This state-of-the-art summary of history, current practice, proposals, and prospects in the ongoing debate over arm's length versus formulary apportionment methodologies will be welcomed by practitioners, policy makers, and academics concerned with international taxation, all of whom will gain an understanding of the case put forward by proponents for adoption of formulary apportionment in Europe and globally and the counter arguments they face. Readers will acquire a better understanding of the implications of formulary apportionment and its central role in the current debate about the future of international taxation rules, providing all the intellectual ammunition needed to carefully re-examine one of the ideas traditionally considered as apocryphal by the OECD and to a significant portion of the tax professional community. Readers of this book will come away not only with a renewed understanding of the multiple facets of formulary apportionment but also of some of the fundamental pressure points in the international tax system. Accordingly, it is a welcome and timely addition to the literature. Dr. Stjepan Gado, Assistant Professor at University of Rijeka, Faculty of Law. British Tax Review 2021 Issue 2, p243-246.
