Surfing, Street Skateboarding, Performance, and Space Hunter H. Fine,2018-09-15 Surfing Street Skateboarding Performance and Space On Board Motility draws from critical cultural studies political philosophy postcolonial studies urban sociology and poststructuralist theory in the context of human communication and performance to construct an epistemology of riding boards This book ponders why we move the way we do and examines the ways in which movements communicate developing as a result a theoretical perspective or board motility that is gestural and fluid moving in relation to shifting social and physical landscapes By combining the discourses and practices of critical theory and physical movement this text presents a sustained analysis of radical political philosophy In the book the symbolic narratives associated with each physical practice are deconstructed as their theoretical counterparts are thoroughly established Then through performance the author narrows the divide between these two forms of thinking verbal and nonverbal outlining and embodying an ontological and epistemological stoke in the process that emerges from riding boards on both waves and streets      Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States. Farquhar,1979 Proceedings of the International Symposium on Waste Treatment and Utilization      Surfing Places, Surfboard Makers Andrew Warren,Chris Gibson,2014-01-31 Over the last forty years surfing has emerged from its Pacific islands origins to become a global industry Since its beginnings more than a thousand years ago surfing s icon has been the surfboard its essential instrument the point of physical connection between human and nature body and wave To a surfer a board is more than a piece of equipment it is a symbol a physical emblem of cultural social and emotional meanings Based on research in three important surfing locations Hawai i southern California and southeastern Australia this is the first book to trace the surfboard from regional craft tradition to its key role in the billion dollar surfing business The surfboard workshops of Hawai i California and Australia are much more than sites of surfboard manufacturing They are hives of creativity where legacies of rich cultural heritage and the local environment combine to produce unique bold board designs customized to suit prevailing waves The globalization and corporatization of surfing have presented small independent board makers with many challenges stemming from the wide availability of cheap mass produced boards and the influx of new surfers The authors follow the story of board makers who have survived these challenges and stayed true to their calling by keeping the mythology and creativity of board making alive In addition they explore the heritage of the craft the secrets of custom board production the role of local geography in shaping board styles and the survival of hand crafting skills From the olo boards of ancient Hawaiian kahuna to the high tech designs that represent the current state of the industry Surfing Places Surfboard Makers offers an entr e into the world of surfboard making that will find an eager audience among researchers and students of Pacific culture history geography and economics as well as surfing enthusiasts Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1982 Journal of Education ,1884
