New South African Review 1 Doreen Atkinson, Prishani Naidoo, Devan Pillay, Roger Southall, 2010-11-01 Is South Africa on a long term decline The New South African Review revives the tradition of critical analytical scholarship developed by the South African Review in the 1970s and 1980s Accessible to a wide readership and drawing upon authors from well beyond academia its objective is to be informative discursive and at times downright provocative It seeks to provide contemporary comment and engage with current controversies The first volume in the series 2010 Development or Decline ranges widely across the implications of the international crisis for the economy the threats to our fragile ecology of present economic strategies through to the state of the ANC and the public service issues around service delivery migration HIV Aids land reform crime the sexual behaviour of our youth and much more Posing the provocative question of whether South Africa is embarking upon a long term decline the volume simultaneously argues the potential for a society premised upon social equality social coherence and sustainability This collection will appeal to both national and international audiences interested in engaging with the multiple dilemmas and challenges facing contemporary South Africa Imagined Liberation Heribert Adam,Kogila Moodley,2013-12-01 On a spectrum of hostility towards irregular migrants South Africa ranks on top Germany in the middle and Canada at the bottom South African xenophobic violence by impoverished slum dwellers is directed against fellow Africans Why would a society that liberated itself in the name of human rights turn against people who escaped human rights violations or unlivable conditions at home What happened to the expected African solidarity Why do former victims become victimizers Imagined Liberation asks what xenophobic societies can learn from other immigrant societies which avoided the backlash against multiculturalism in Europe
