

Plate-tectonic theory states that the Earth's lithosphere is broken into very slowly moving pieces or plates. Plate movements over vast stretches of time have led to the current orientation of our continents and oceans. Individual events along plate boundaries, such as earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, pose periodic threats to human activity and ecosystems. The "Ring of Fire" is a term that describes the location of increased seismic and volcanic activity around the margins of the Pacific Ocean basin. On the map above, each dot represents a volcano or an earthquake.

 - (i) Describe what happens when two tectonic plates collide along a subduction zone.
 - (ii) Explain how subduction leads to volcanic activity.
- (b) Although the landscape following a volcanic eruption may appear unable to support ecological communities, over time the area can be transformed through succession.

 - (ii) Explain how primary succession can lead to soil formation on a newly formed volcanic landscape.
