The A to Z of French Cinema Dayna Oscherwitz,MaryEllen Higgins,2009-09-02 It can be argued that cinema was created in France by Louis Lumière in 1895 with the invention of the cinématographe the first true motion picture camera and projector While there were other cameras and devices invented earlier that were capable of projecting intermittent motion of images the cinématographe was the first device capable of recording and externally projecting images in such a way as to convey motion Early films such as Lumière's La Sortie de l usine a minute long film of workers leaving the Lumière factory captured the imagination of the nation and quickly inspired the likes of Georges Méliès Alice Guy and Charles Pathé Through the years French cinema has been responsible for producing some of the world's best directors Jean Renoir Jean-Luc Godard François Truffaut and Louis Malle and actors Charles Boyer Catherine Deneuve Gérard Depardieu and Audrey Tautou The A to Z of French Cinema covers the history of French film from the silent era to the present in a concise and up to date volume detailing the development of French cinema and major theoretical and cultural issues related to it This is done through a chronology an introduction photographs a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on many of the major actors directors films movements producers and studios associated with French cinema Going beyond mere biographical information entries also discuss the impact and significance of each individual film movement or studio included This detailed scholarly analysis of the development of film in France is useful to both the novice and the expert alike

The New Wave James Monaco,2004 Three decades after its first publication The New Wave is still considered one of the fundamental texts on the French film movement of the same name Led by filmmakers as influential as Truffaut and Godard the New Wave was a seminal moment in cinematic history and The New Wave has been hailed as the most complete book ever written about it The New Wave tells the story of the New Wave through examinations of five of the most important directors of the era Truffaut Godard Chabrol Rohmer and Rivette With detailed notes and over fifty breathtaking stills the book has appealed both to academics and interested novices alike The thirtieth anniversary edition includes a new afterword by the author Praise for the first edition of The New Wave The most complete book I know on the five most important directors of the New Wave Costa Gavras At last a book that intelligently and critically examines that remarkable phenomenon known as the New Wave Not just a book for film buffs it is essential reading for anyone interested in the interrelations between art politics and life in the second half of the twentieth century A remarkable achievement Richard Roud Founder New York Film Festival There is a genuine kind of honesty at work in the writing a sense that the author wishes to describe the subject more clearly help the reader and not explain in the pompous sense of the word or criticize for the sake of being superior It's refreshing Ted Perry Museum of Modern Art
