L'art pariétal André Leroi-Gourhan, 1992 Si la préhistoire est bien la science dont le but est l'étude de l'homme d'avant l'écriture Leroi-Gourhan par la place centrale qu'il lui a accordée tout au long de son itinéraire scientifique peut apparaître juste titre comme l'un des fondateurs de cette discipline De ces hommes préhistoriques il ne reste cependant que des traces encore amenuisées par l'action du temps Et l'abondance des documents livrés par les fouilles du passé ne doit pas faire illusion extraits de leur contexte sans indication précise sur leur situation dans le site et sur leurs relations avec les autres objets ces documents ne nous apportent guère d'autre renseignement que celui de leur existence L'apport de Leroi-Gourhan est cet regard de première importance puisqu'aux méthodes de fouilles qui s'attachaient la datation chronologique des vestiges il substitua le découpage horizontal qui dévoilait les techniques le savoir-faire les déplacements même de l'homme préhistorique Tout cela n'apportait cependant que trop peu de renseignements sur leur univers mental et il faut souligner ce que l'analyse de leurs créations esthétiques a pu nous apporter ce sujet Ici encore Leroi-Gourhan s'est brillamment illustré en proposant une interprétation d'ensemble de l'art préhistorique qui a ouvert des voies qu'il ne saurait plus être question d'ignorer désormais Les textes rassemblés pour la première fois ici intègrent précisément ces deux aspects complémentaires pour la préhistoire de la recherche archéologique et de l'approche esthétique Ils restituent l'essentiel de la pensée d'André Leroi-Gourhan dans ces domaines sur lesquels il a travaillé de façon soutenue pendant presque toute sa carrière scientifique et constituent donc une source d'information de première importance pour tous ceux que l'étude de nos origines intéresse À ce titre il se devait d'ouvrir la collection L'Homme des Origines
