Re-storying Mediterranean Worlds Angela Biancofiore, Clément Barniaudy, 2021-09-09 This book invites readers to think of Mediterranean cultures as interconnected worlds seen in light of how they evolve disappear are reborn and perpetually transform This perspective intends to build bridges between the Northern and Southern coasts of the sea in order to broaden and deepen our understanding of current evolutions in Mediterranean worlds at the cultural literary artistic and geopolitical levels As Paul Valéry suggested we can consider this plural space from the perspective of the intense cultural economic and human exchanges which have always characterized the Mare Nostrum We can also consider Mediterranean worlds within an open enactive process deeply exploring their evolution between nature and culture examining the natural environment and the transforming relationships between humans and non humans The writers and researchers in Re-storying Mediterranean Worlds call for a dialog between the two coasts in order to connect what has been broken In this volume they highlight an intercultural and creolized conscience traversing the Mediterranean worlds including Italian French and Tunisian cultures but also migrations from to and within the region and transcending any idea of communitarian withdrawal These essays express the urgent need to shift from an understanding of migration as suffering to the notion that mobility is an unalienable right building foundations for a new idea of global citizenship

New Trends in Table Olive Fermentation, 2nd Edition Joaquín Bautista-Gallego, Francisco Noé Arroyo-López, Albert Bordon, Rufino Jiménez-Díaz, 2020-03-27 Table olives are a traditional fermented vegetable with many centuries of history particularly in the Mediterranean basin where this food has had a great influence on the culture and diet of many countries Moreover this fermented food is prepared with fruits obtained from cultivated Olea europaea subsp. europaea var. europaea trees and has been expanded for many countries all over the world. At present the table olive is one of the major fermented vegetables with an overall production above 2 500 000 tons/year. Thus the table olive industry is increasingly demanding new biotechnological approaches: sensory characteristics and differentiation of the products. So scientists have to focus on solving problems and providing new tools in this fermented food process. In recent years there is an increased interest in different nutritional and microbial aspects related to table olives. During the last five years new fields have been implemented or developed such as: new probiotic strains to produce an enriched product; study of pathogen survival; NaCl content reduction; microbial resistance to stress conditions; microbial biofilms; predictive microbiology; use of NGS and metagenomics; use of bioactive compounds derived from table olive processing and the treatment of effluents generated during olive processing. The diversity of research displayed in this Research Topic demonstrates the important potential of this product and its impact on the fermented vegetables economy.

Part third: Southern Italy, Sicily, etc Karl Baedeker, 1883 A Handbook for Travellers in Central Italy John Murray (Firm), 1861 Italy Karl Baedeker (Firm), 1883 Italy: Southern Italy and Sicily, with excursions to the Lipari Islands, Malta, Sardinia, Tunis, and Corfu. 8th rev. ed. 1883 Karl Baedeker (Firm), 1883

A handbook for travellers in central Italy John Murray, 1867 The Sustainability of Agro-Food and Natural Resource Systems in the Mediterranean Basin Antonella Vastola, 2015-04-24 This book is focused on the challenges to implement sustainability in diverse contexts such as agribusiness, natural resource systems and new technologies. The experiences made by the researchers of the School of Agricultural Forestry Food and Environmental Science SAFE of the University of Basilicata offer a wide and multidisciplinary approach to the identification and testing of different solutions tailored to the economic, social and environmental characteristics of the region and the surrounding areas. Basilicata's productive system is mainly based on activities related to the agricultural sector and exploitation of natural resources, but it has seen in recent years an industrial development driven by the discovery of oil fields. SAFE research took up the challenge posed by market competition to create value through the sustainable use of renewable and non-renewable resources of the territory. Moreover, due to its unique geographical position in the middle of the Mediterranean basin, Basilicata is an excellent open sky laboratory for testing sustainable solutions adaptable to other Mediterranean areas. This collection of multidisciplinary case studies and research experiences from SAFE researchers and their scientific partners is a stimulating contribution to the debate on the development of sustainable techniques, methods and applications for the Mediterranean regions.
