The book contributes to filling the gap in knowledge on African history, associated pedagogies and practices, and its consequent effects on research and the declining popularity of history in African schools. Specifically, the volume: a) examines current trends and practices in history education in African schools; b) unveils the challenges and subtleties of teaching the next generation of teachers and students; and c) examines classroom practices and opportunities for engagement with historical concepts in African schools. The book adds a much-needed African voice to the international history education literature and contributes to strengthening the place of history teaching and learning in Africa. Robinson, Ayana Allen-Handy, Amber Bryant, Chance W. Lewis, 2019-03-01 In 2014, The Urban Education Collaborative at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte hosted its first biennial International Conference on Urban Education (ICUE) in Montego Bay, Jamaica. In 2016, the second hosting of the conference took place in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Additionally, in 2018, the third hosting of the conference took place in Nassau, Bahamas. These solution-focused conferences brought together students, teachers, scholars, public sector and business professionals, as well as others from around the world, to present their research and best practices on various topics pertaining to urban education. With ICUE's inspiration, this book is a response to the growing need to highlight the multifaceted aspects of urban education, particularly focusing on common issues and solutions in urban environments, e.g., family and community engagement, student academic achievement, teacher preparation and professional development, targeted instructional and disciplinary interventions, opportunity gaps, culturally relevant and sustaining practices, etc. Additionally, with this book, we seek to better understand the challenges facing urban educators and students and to offer progressive initiatives toward resolutions. This unique compilation of work is organized under four major themes, all targeted at critically addressing concerns that may inhibit the success of urban learners and providing solutions that have implications for curriculum design, development and delivery, teacher preparation and teaching diverse populations, career readiness and employment, and even more nuanced issues related to foster care, undocumented students,
