The Graduation by Maya Angelou

"The Graduation" is an inspirational narrative of Maya Angelou's 8th class graduation. She uses really powerful descriptive words to explicate her milieu for illustration. Unlike the white high school Lafayette County Training School distinguished itself by holding neither lawn, nor hedges, nor tennis tribunal, nor mounting Hedera helix. Its two edifices (chief schoolroom, the grade school and place economic sciences) were set on a soil hill with no fencing to restrict either its boundaries or those of surrounding farms. There was a big sweep to the left of the school which was used alternately as a baseball tribunal. (Angelou 1)

Angelou describes the utmost differences from the white school and hers. At this point in the narrative, Angelou is turning more and more aroused about her graduation, along with her household and friends. The town was highly supportive of the 8th class classes' graduation. All was apparently good until Mr. Donleavy walked onto the phase and began to sabotage the intelligence and high rational capacity of the full school. He continued to connote that merely the white school was worthy of new scientific discipline equipment, and merely foreground their athletic ability. Angelou began to chew over her being. Her ideas were dark and dreary, until Henry Reed began to sing. He delivered his address with power and assurance, and Angelou's religion and self-image was restored.

Response Paragraph One

Angelou explains that inequality that existed in 1940s Stamps, Arkansas is still a really important job in today's universe. Throughout the essay, she gives first-class illustrations of this, such as, Donleavy had exposed us. We were amahs and husbandmans, jack of all tradess and washwomans, and anything higher that we aspired to was ludicrous and assumptive. Then I wished that Gabriel Prosser and Nat Turner had killed all white folks in their beds and that Abraham Lincoln had been assassinated before that sign language of the Emancipation Proclamation and that Harriet Tubman had been killed by that blow on her caput and Christopher Columbus had drowned in the Santa Maria. (Angelou 6) By this point, Angelou feels really baffled about whom she is. She goes on to believe that no affair what she does, her race will ever be seen as less than equal. After a few proceedings of her beguiling some less than elating ideas through her caput, she hears Henry Reed get down to give his valedictorian address. The address was more than words, and it inspired Angelou. She began to see a different side of Henry Reed ; he spoke strongly as if Mr. Donleavy had ne'er been at that place.

Response Paragraph two

Angelou's elaborate account of her graduation reminds me of my ain graduation. The more I read, the more I found similarities. My graduation was really meaningful to me, and like Angelou I was expecting the twenty-four hours that I was able to walk across the phase and have my sheepskin I had spen
