DEPARTMENT : LINGUISTICS, LANGUAGES AND LITERATURE UNIT CODE: ALT 805 UNIT TITLE: LITERATURE AND JOURNALISM TASK: Difference between Literature and Journalism PRESENTED BY: JULIE E. OGONYA REG. NO. : PG/MA/063/2009 PRESENTED TO: DR. KITCHE MAGAK DATE: NOVEMBER, 2009. MASENO INTRODUCTION Literature and journalism are two genres that are interrelated and intertwined because literature borrows heavily from journalism and journalism borrows heavily from literature as well. Sometimes it gets problematic distinguishing literature from journalism, more so with the emergence of narrative journalism.

According to Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary, literature refers to pieces of writing that are valued as works of art, especially novels, plays and poems (in contrast to technical books and newspapers, magazines, etc.). The same dictionary defines journalism as the work of collecting and writing news stories for newspapers, magazines, radio or television. In this paper, an attempt is going to be made to show the differences between literature and journalism. Differences between Literature and Journalism.

The difference between literature and journalism can be seen from the definitions of the two genres where literature is defined as "pieces of writing that are valued as works of art". Art refers to "the use of imagination to express ideas or feelings" (Hornby, 2005). The key word is imagination. This means that in literature, language is used creatively with a lot of imagination in expressing ideas. Literature has been described as a mirror of the society and it reflects the happenings in that society. The reflections more often than not depend on the type of the mirror, whether concave or convex.

Consequently, literature can distort reality. Journalism, "the work of collecting and writing news stories for newspapers, magazines, radio or television", on the other hand, is a picture of the society. What we see is what we get since journalism is reportage. Mikkel Hvild has provided some guidelines on the difference between journalism and literature. In this paper most of the differences used will be from a paper he presented entitled Fiction, Facts and Storytelling and Roy Peter Clarke's essay : Between Fact and Fiction: Navigating Treacherous Waters.

First, Hvild says that "the difference between literature and journalism is characterized by more than just the difference between fact and fiction. The two genres have different expressions, different criteria for the truth and relevance and different priorities. Journalism must be true but writers of fiction are allowed to lie". In literature, the diction is characterized by the use of literary techniques like imagery, personification, irony, juxtaposition, sarcasm, similes and so on. These are used to make the message being communicated to...

College Writing and Beyond Anne Beaufort,2008-02-06 Composition research consistently demonstrates that the social context of writing determines the majority of conventions any writer must observe Still most universities organize the required first year composition course as if there were an intuitive set of general writing skills usable across academic and work world settings In College Writing and Beyond A New Framework for University Writing Instruction Anne Beaufort reports on a longitudinal study comparing one student s experience in FYC in history in engineering and in his post college writing Her data illuminate the struggle of college students to transfer what they learn about general writing from one context to another Her findings suggest ultimately not that we must abolish FYC but that we must go beyond even genre theory in reconceiving it Accordingly Beaufort would argue that the FYC course should abandon its hope to teach a sort of general academic discourse and instead should systematically teach strategies of responding to contextual elements that impinge on the writing situation Her data urge attention to issues of learning transfer and to developmentally sound linkages in writing instruction within and across disciplines Beaufort advocates special attention to discourse community theory for its power to help students perceive and understand the context of writing Crafting Presence Nicole B. Wallack,2017-06-01

Essays are central to students and teachers development as thinkers in their fields In Crafting Presence Nicole B Wallack develops an approach to teaching writing with the literary essay that holds promise for writing students as well as for achieving a sense of common purpose currently lacking among professionals in composition creative writing and literature Wallack analyzes examples drawn primarily from volumes of The Best American Essays to illuminate the most important quality of the essay as a literary form the writer s presence She demonstrates how accounting for presence provides a flexible and rigorous heuristic for reading the contexts formal elements and purposes of essays Such readings can help students learn writing principles practices and skills for crafting myriad presences rather than a single voice Crafting Presence holds serious implications for writing pedagogy by providing new methods to help teachers and students become more insightful and confident readers and writers of essays At a time when liberal arts education faces significant challenges this important contribution to literary studies composition and creative writing shows how an essay centered curriculum empowers students to show up in the world as public thinkers who must shape the knowledge economy of the twenty first century
