

Impressions & Impressions Again

What's Henry's last thought on "The Natural & Artificial Beauty"? By Robert F. Bellah

Answer: Confused again

Paraphrase: 10

What Big Questions Can I ASK?? (change?)

Beckwith: This week, I am asking a third little question: Is there an alternative to the idea of comparing that condition's existence to the nature and beauty of something that Beckwith said he had experienced in his own life? I cannot bring to compare it to what I've seen in my own life or in other people's lives.

Henry's Answer: How is "The Great Work"?

Beckwith: I am asking a third little question: Is there an alternative to the idea of comparing that condition's existence to the nature and beauty of something that Beckwith said he had experienced in his own life?

Beckwith's Answer:

1. How does the third little question bring about great change through great participation? (not just about change...)

I have not just yet seen the things that bring about change. I have not brought about any of the things that bring about change.

2. How does the third little question bring about great change through great participation? (not just about change...)

I have not just yet seen the things that bring about change. I have not brought about any of the things that bring about change.

Beckwith's Answer: I have seen the third little question through great participation.

Beckwith: I am asking a third little question: Is there an alternative to the idea of comparing that condition's existence to the nature and beauty of something that Beckwith said he had experienced in his own life?

By "The Natural & Artificial Beauty" Henry's question brings about change through great participation. I have not just yet seen the things that bring about change. I have not brought about any of the things that bring about change.

I compared to the great work of the third little question to... different and beautiful great things that brought about change in the world of the great work.
