LAB EXERCISE 5: Lizard Evolution Virtual Lab

Answer the following questions as you finish each module in the virtual lab.

MODULE 1: Introduction

1. In this introductory module video, you were asked to sort eight lizards into categories. What criteria did you use to sort the lizards into groups?

They were sorted by color and size of legs and body.

2. Did you notice great variation here? Why?

Yes, because the video showed that the lizards had different colors and sizes, and they were also in different environments. This suggests that there is a lot of variation in the lizards.

3. An adaptation is a structure or function that the organism has as a population because it increases the ability to survive and reproduce in a particular environment. Provide one example and an explanation of an adaptation in the video (lizard).

The lizards in the video were able to change color to match their environment. This is an adaptation because it helps them to hide from predators and catch their food.

4. Provide one evolutionary explanation for why lizards living in that environment change color (i.e., the group) would have survived a longer time.

The lizards that changed color to match their environment were able to survive longer than the lizards that did not change color.
