Making Sense of China's Economy Tao Wang, 2023-03-28 For years China's transformation from one of the world's poorest nations was lauded as a triumph that lifted hundreds of millions of people out of poverty There were always questions about data reliability and growth sustainability but the general views on China have recently taken a decidedly sour turn Concerns abound about state interference in the economy an ageing population and high debt level Making Sense of China's Economy untangles China's complex economic structure evolving issues and curious contradictions and explains some key features of this most puzzling of global economic powerhouses This book reveals how factors such as demographics the initial stage of development in 1978 the transition away from full state ownership and central planning the dual urban rural society and a decentralised governance structure have combined to shape the economy its development and its reforms It shows how the pragmatic and adaptive nature of China's policymaking upends familiar perspectives and hinders simple cross country comparisons The book also explores crucial topics including the property market debt accumulation and environmental challenges In this book Tao Wang innovatively weaves the multiple strands of China's economy into a holistic and organic tapestry that gives us unique insights from both a Chinese and an international perspective This book is critical reading for business leaders investors policymakers students and anyone else hoping to understand China s economy and its future evolution and impact written by a specialist who has studied the country from both inside and out European Foreign and Security Policy towards China Claude Zanardi,2022-11-08 This book explores the foreign and security policies of Germany France and the UK vis vis China Despite the progress made by the Lisbon Treaty and notwithstanding the first EU Global Strategy the European Union does not have a strategy to address the rise of China Since this strategic deficit does not automatically reflect the level of EU member states this book argues that the vacuum at EU level provides member states with an opportunity to fill this gap By assuming that an increase in national policies on China would eventually lead to a comprehensive European strategy for China the author focuses on the three biggest European countries and looks at the rise of China to understand the development of the EU s Common Foreign and Security Policy vis vis the PRC While the CFSP depends on the contribution of EU member states their role in shaping the CFSP towards China has not been researched yet and this book fills the gap each content review chapter Helpful timelines of major developments plus chapter review questions Popular Music, Cultural Politics and Music Education in China Wai-Chung Ho, 2016-12-08 While attention has been paid to various aspects of music education in China to date no single publication has systematically addressed the complex interplay of sociopolitical transformations underlying the development of popular music and music education in the multilevel culture of China Before the implementation of the new curriculum reforms in China at the beginning of the twenty first century there was neither Chinese nor Western popular music in textbook materials Popular culture had long been prohibited in school music education by China's strong revolutionary orientation which feared spiritual pollution by Western cultures However since the early twenty first century education reform has attempted to help students deal with experiences in their daily lives and has officially included learning the canon of popular music in the music curriculum In relation to this topic this book analyses how social transformation and cultural politics have affected community relations and the transmission of popular music through school music education Ho presents music and music education as sociopolitical constructions of nationalism and globalization Moreover how popular music is received in national and global contexts and how it affects the construction of social and musical meanings in school music education as well as the reformation of music education in mainland China is discussed Based on the perspectives of school music teachers and students the findings of the empirical studies in this book address the power and potential use of popular music in school music education as a producer and reproducer of cultural politics in the music curriculum in the mainland Joseph Henry Blackburne Tim Harding, 2015-08-13 During a career spanning more than 50 years J H Blackburne 1841-1924 won the British Chess Championship and several international tournaments at his peak becoming one of the world's top three chess masters A professional player who derived his livelihood from annual tours of chess clubs in England and other countries entertaining and teaching amateur players he astonished his contemporaries by the ease with which he played the game without sight of the chessboard At 21 he set a world record for such exhibitions competing against 12 club players simultaneously and he continued to perform blindfold into his sixties This first comprehensive biography of Britain's greatest chess player of the 19th and early 20th centuries presents more than 1 000 of Blackburne's games chronologically including all his surviving games from serious competition annotated in varying detail Many are masterpieces containing beautiful combinations and instructive endgame play Blackburne's unusual family and social background are fully explored Opening Markets for Foreign Skills: How Can the WTO Help? Joy Kategekwa, 2014-07-08 The Mode 4 commitments of WTO Members are narrow and shallow Even though trade negotiations for enhanced Mode 4 access started well before the launch of the DDA prospects for success are thin These negotiations followed a traditional mercantilist approach with limited attention to the underlying difficulties countries face in letting people into their borders either generally or on the basis of a WTO GATS commitment This Book argues that this approach alone will not succeed It proposes a focus not on trading market access concessions only but on discussions aimed at understanding each other's regulatory approaches To date in terms of the literature available we know very little about how WTO Members are managing their Mode 4 commitments We know even less about how the WTO could learn from clearly more advanced steps in regional liberalization processes This Book addresses these issues through case studies of market access and national treatment commitments and regulatory approaches in Economic Integration Agreements of a select group of WTO Members

China's Economic Development Lee Pei May, 2024-06-21 Through a rigorous examination of China's rise Lee addresses an important question Did China catch up Or more specifically can growth be automatically translated to catching up with the advanced industrialised countries or has it only allowed limited progress if any to be made To answer these queries and the broader question of the possibility of the Global South converging with the Global North four development theories are utilised with competing explanations to uncover the complexity and multifaceted development of China This includes whether China really has a unique developmental model to offer Positioning China within the global economy this book traces its developmental progress over time as well as its progress relative to other countries To understand whether the Chinese political economy is socialist or not Lee moves away from the orthodox definition of socialism and instead examines the official narrative of Socialism with Chinese Characteristics Lastly this book argues that though China is catching up challenges that could potentially block China's progress for a full catch up are to be anticipated A useful resource for students and scholars in the fields of international relations international political economy Chinese studies and development studies
