Evidence-Based Bullying Prevention Programs for Children and Youth Dagmar Strohmeier, Gil G.

Noam, 2012-04-17 Bullying is a hot topic at schools across the nation. Chronic involvement in bullying is associated with many intrapersonal, interpersonal, and academic problems, and even sporadic experiences of bullying are harmful. During the last two decades, several prevention and intervention programs have been developed by research teams all over the world. Many of these programs have been adopted in the United States. This volume introduces five evidence-based anti-bullying programs developed in European countries where much of the early innovations and adaptations have occurred. Based on state-of-the-art knowledge, this volume answers: How can educators detect that bullying is going on in their school? How can educators respond competently in acute bullying situations? How can educators prevent bullying in their schools in the long run? This is the 133rd volume of New Directions for Youth Development, the Jossey-Bass quarterly report series dedicated to bringing together everyone concerned with helping young people, including scholars, practitioners, and people from different disciplines and professions.

Bullying can be found in every school system, school, and classroom. It is destructive to the well-being of students, creates unsafe schools, and impacts learning. School personnel, parents, and others are increasingly realizing the importance of putting effective anti-bullying strategies and policies in place that will create safe, caring, and peaceful schools where all students feel a sense of belonging and acceptance. Based on Allan L. Beane's proven Bully-Free 7-Step Program, Bullying Prevention for Schools is a step-by-step guide to implementing an anti-bullying program in individual schools or throughout a district. In Bullying Prevention for Schools, Dr. Beane details how to implement training for school personnel and volunteers and awareness sessions for students, parents, and the community. Establish policies, rules, behavioral expectations, discipline rubrics, and response plans. Prepare intervention and prevention strategies. Develop a plan to actively include, involve, and empower students, parents, and the community. And much more. Bullying Prevention for Schools also contains a wealth of reproducible documents and forms such as surveys, statement sheets, and intervention questionnaires.
