The Complex Forest Carol J. P. Colfer, 2010-09-30 The Complex Forest systematically examines the theory processes and early outcomes of a research and management approach called adaptive collaborative management ACM An alternative to positivist approaches to development and conservation that assume predictability in forest management ACM acknowledges the complexity and unpredictability inherent in any forest community and the importance of developing solutions together with the forest peoples whose lives will be most affected by the outcomes Building on earlier work that established the importance of flexible collaborative approaches to sustainable forest management The Complex Forest describes the work of ACM practitioners facing a broad range of challenges in diverse settings and attempts to identify the conditions under which ACM is most effective Case studies of ACM in 33 forest sites in 11 countries together with Colfer's systematic comparison of results at each site indicate that human and institutional capabilities have been strengthened In Zimbabwe for example the number of women involved in decisionmaking soared In Nepal community members detected and sanctioned dishonest community elites In Cameroon and Bolivia learning programs resulted in better conflict management These are early results but a wide range of recent research supports Colfer's belief that these new capabilities will eventually contribute to higher incomes and to sustainable improvements in the health of forests and forest peoples The Complex Forest reinforces calls for change in the way we plan conservation and development programs away from command and control approaches toward ones that require bureaucratic flexibility and responsiveness as well as greater local participation in setting priorities and problem solving

Global Trade and Mediatised Environmental Protest Libby Lester, 2019-09-12 As more governments companies and individuals scan the globe for access to primary resources such as minerals and timber food power and water and destinations for work holidays and homes pressures on places and communities grow At the same time global environmental risks most notably climate change produce new networks and unfamiliar forms of politics Communication media are integral to this change This book explores how geographically diverse groups and individuals interact in and through media to influence the negotiations and decisions affecting often distant landscapes and communities Drawing on extensive fieldwork in the Australia Asia region the book includes case studies on the environmental protests that follow the international flow of people and resources including timber fish coal water and tourism It asks how communities of concern are evoked which transcend local places and national boundaries      Keys to Running Successful Research Projects

Katherine Christian,2018-04-23 Keys to Running Successful Research Projects All the Things They Never Teach You provides a step by step guide for the management of a successful research project or program Through the use of illustrative case studies the book covers all aspects of management that should be included during researcher training helping researchers overcome the many challenges they face in their day to day management of people time and resources Links throughout provide more detailed information from gold standard sources on every topic It is a must have reference for postdocs research managers and administrators in colleges universities hospitals and research institutes In addition it is an ideal resource for those working in grant and contract funding groups in the life sciences and medical fields Covers the nuts and bolts of research management in the life sciences medical and health fields Provides simple solutions to issues that come up on the job Ensures that hard fought for money is spent wisely and well      Dulling the Cutting Edge: How Patent-Related Policies and Practices Hamper Innovation in China
Dan Prud'homme,2012-08-22 This study s statistical analysis shows that patent quality and innovation in China deserve improvement and an in depth legal management science and economic analysis in the study shows that various patent related policies and practices actually hamper patent quality and innovation in China Over 50 recommendations for reform are provided The study is divided into four chapters summaries of which are as follows Although China became the world leader in quantity of domestically filed patent applications in 2011 the quality of these patents needs improvement Also while certain innovation in China is rising the country s actual innovation appears over hyped by some sources There appears to be an overly heavy focus on government set quantitative patent targets in China which can hamper patent quality and innovation This overemphasis involves over 10 national level and over 150 municipal provincial quantitative patent targets mostly to be met by 2015 which are also linked to performance evaluations for SoEs Party officials and government ministries universities and research institutes and other entities China has a wide range of other policies many of which are at least partially meant to encourage patents that can actually discourage quality patents and highest quality patents in particular and innovation Examples of these policies include a variety of measures with requirements for indigenous intellectual property rights that are linked to financial incentives many of which are unrelated to government procurement a range of other government provided financial incentives for patent development e g certain patent filing subsidies inappropriate inventor remuneration rules discriminatory standardization approaches and a wide range of others There are a host of concerns surrounding rules and procedures for patent application review and those for enforcement of patent disputes that can hamper building of quality patents and innovation in China These include concerns about abuse of patent rights difficulties invalidating utility models and a wide range of other issues      New Mexico Geology

,2001      Confronting Racism in Teacher Education Bree Picower,Rita Kohli,2017-03-27 Confronting Racism in Teacher Education aims to transform systematic and persistent racism through in depth analyses of racial justice struggles and strategies in teacher education By bringing together counternarratives of critical teacher educators the editors of this volume present key insights from both individual and collective experiences of advancing racial justice Written for teacher educators higher education administrators policy makers and others concerned with issues of race the book is comprised of four parts that each represent a distinct perspective on the struggle for racial justice contributors reflect on their experiences working as educators of Color to transform the culture of predominately White institutions navigating the challenges of whiteness within teacher education building transformational bridges within classrooms and training current and inservice teachers through concrete models of racial justice By bringing together these often individualized experiences Confronting Racism in Teacher Education reveals larger patterns that emerge of institutional racism in teacher education and the strategies that can inspire resistance      CD-ROMs in Print ,2003
