PROLOGUE

Though I often looked for one, I finally had to admit that there could be no cure for Paris. Part of it was the war. The world had ended once already and could again at any moment. The war had come and changed us by happening when everyone said it couldn't. No one knew how many had died, but when you heard the numbers—nine million or fourteen million—you thought, Impossible. Paris was full of ghosts and the walking wounded. Many came back to Rouen or Oak Park, Illinois, shot through and carrying little pieces of what they'd seen behind their

Sensing Sacred Jennifer Baldwin,2016-08-30 Sensing Sacred is an edited volume that explores the critical intersection of religion and body through the religious lens of practical theology with an emphasis on sensation as the embodied means in which human beings know themselves others and the divine in the world The manuscript argues that all human interaction and practice including religious praxis engages body through at least one of the human senses touch smell hearing taste sight kinestics proprioception Unfortunately body and more specifically and ironically sensation is eclipsed in contemporary academic scholarship that is inherently bent toward the realm of theory and ideas This is unfortunate because it neglects bodies physical or communal as the repository and generator of culturally conditioned ideas and theory It is ironic because all knowledge transmission minimally requires several senses including sight touch and hearing Sensing Sacred is organized into two parts The first section devotes a chapter to each human sense as an avenue of accessing religious experience while the second section explores religious practices as they specifically focus on one or more senses The overarching aim of the volume is to explicitly highlight each sense and utilize the theoretical lenses of practical theology to bring to vivid life the connections between essential sensation and religious thinking and practice     Forest Preservation Minnesota.
