The Art of the Sister Chapel Andrew Hottle, 2017-07-05 The Sister Chapel 1974-78 was an important collaborative installation that materialized at the height of the women's art movement Conceived as a nonhierarchical secular commemoration of female role models The Sister Chapel consisted of an eighteen foot abstract ceiling that hung above a circular arrangement of eleven monumental canvases each depicting the standing figure of a heroic woman The choice of subject was left entirely to the creator of each work As a result the paintings formed a visually cohesive group without compromising the individuality of the artists Contemporary and historical women deities and conceptual figures were portrayed by distinguished New York painters Alice Neel May Stevens and Sylvia Sleigh as well as their accomplished but less prominent colleagues Among the role models depicted were Artemisia Gentileschi Frida Kahlo Betty Friedan Joan of Arc and a female incarnation of God Although last exhibited in 1980 The Sister Chapel has lingered in the minds of art historians who continue to note its significance as an exemplar of feminist collaboration Based on previously unpublished archival materials and featuring dozens of rarely seen works of art this comprehensive study details the fascinating history of The Sister Chapel its constituent paintings and its ambitious creators

Doppelgangers, Alter Egos and Mirror Images in Western Art, 1840-2010 Mary D. Edwards, 2020-06-15 The notion of a person or even an object having a double has been explored in the visual arts for ages and in myriad ways portraying the body and its soul a woman gazing at her reflection in a pool or a man overwhelmed by his own shadow In this edited collection focusing on nineteenth and twentieth century western art scholars analyze doppelgangers alter egos mirror images double portraits and other pairings human and otherwise appearing in a large variety of artistic media Artists whose works are discussed at length include Richard Dadd Salvador Dali Egon Schiele Frida Kahlo the creators of Superman and Nicola Costantino among many others

Devouring Frida Margaret A. Lindauer, 2014-01-27 This provocative reassessment of Frida Kahlo's art and legacy presents a feminist analysis of the myths surrounding her In the late 1970s Frida Kahlo achieved cult heroine status Her images were splashed across billboards magazine ads and postcards fashion designers copied the so called Frida look in hairstyles and dress and Fridamania even extended to T-shirts jewelry and nail polish Margaret A Lindauer argues that this mass market assimilation of Kahlo's identity has detracted from appreciation of her work leading to narrow interpretations based solely on her tumultuous life Kahlo's political and feminist activism her stormy marriage to fellow artist Diego Rivera and her progressively debilitated body made for a life of emotional and physical upheaval But Lindauer questions the author equals the work critical tradition that assumes a one to one association of life events to the meaning of a painting In Kahlo's case such assumptions created a devouring mythology an iconization that separates us from the real significance of the oeuvre Accompanied by twenty six illustrations and deep analysis of Kahlo's central themes this provocative semiotic study recontextualizes an important figure in art history At the same time it addresses key questions about the language of interpretation the nature of veneration and the truths within self representation Carr, O'Keeffe, Kahlo Sharyn Rohlfen Udall, 2000-01-01 Carr a Canadian O'Keeffe an American and Kahlo a Mexican were not close during their lives but Udall an independent art historian in Santa Fe New Mexico in this carefully reasoned and illuminating study effectively brings many aspects of the artists works together to demonstrate a kind of zeitgeist they shared as women developing often surprisingly similar non traditional themes in the 1920s Links between their works are developed in the areas of nationalism identity gender nature and self through discussion of their paintings psychology and artistic influences Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Farewell to the Muse: Love, War and the Women of Surrealism Whitney

Chadwick, 2017-11-14 A fascinating examination of the ambitions and friendships of a talented group of midcentury women artists Farewell to the Muse documents what it meant to be young ambitious and female in the context of an avant garde movement defined by celebrated men whose backgrounds were often quite different from those of their younger lovers and companions Focusing on the 1930s 1940s and 1950s Whitney Chadwick charts five female friendships among the Surrealists to show how Surrealism female friendship and the experiences of war loss and trauma shaped individual women's transitions from someone else's muse to mature artists in their own right Her vivid account includes the fascinating story of Claude Cahun and Suzanne Malherbe in occupied Jersey as well as the experiences of Lee Miller and Valentine Penrose at the front line Chadwick draws on personal correspondence between women including the extraordinary letters between Leonora Carrington and Leonor Fini during the months following the arrest and imprisonment of Carrington's lover Max Ernst and the letter Frida Kahlo shared with her friend and lover Jacqueline Lamba years after it was written in the late 1930s This history brings a new perspective to the political context of Surrealism as well as fresh insights on the vital importance of female friendship to its progress Ten Notable Women of Modern Latin America James D.
