The Best Class You Never Taught Alexis Wiggins, 2017-09-27 The best classes have a life of their own powered by student-led conversations that explore texts ideas and essential questions In these classes the teacher's role shifts from star player to observer and coach as the students Think critically Work collaboratively Participate fully Behave ethically Ask and answer high-level questions Support their ideas with evidence and Evaluate and assess their own work The Spider Web Discussion is a simple technique that puts this kind of class within every teacher's reach The name comes from the weblike diagram the observer makes to record interactions as students actively participate in the discussion lead and support one another's learning and build community It's proven to work across all subject areas and with all ages and you only need a little know-how a rubric and paper and pencil to get started As students practice Spider Web Discussion they become stronger communicators more empathetic teammates better problem solvers and more independent learners college and career ready skills that serve them well in the classroom and beyond Educator Alexis Wiggins provides a step by step guide for the implementation of Spider Web Discussion covering everything from introducing the technique to creating rubrics for discussion self assessment to the nuts and bolts of charting the conversations and using the data collected for formative assessment She also shares troubleshooting tips ideas for assessment and group grading and the experiences of real teachers and students who use the technique to develop and share content knowledge in a way that s both revolutionary and truly inspiring An Age of Accountability John L.

Rury,2023-10-13 An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020 For more than half a century the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment The theory of change embedded in almost all test based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize But even after very clear disappointments no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide especially in the public sector As a consequence many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity even if educators and policy scholars disagree Handbook of Research on Science Literacy Integration in Classroom Environments Tai, Chih-Che,Moran, Renee M. R.,Robertson, Laura,Keith, Karin,Hong, Huili,2018-10-12 Secondary schools are continually faced with the task of preparing students for a world that is more connected advanced and globalized than ever before In order to adequately prepare students for their future educators must provide them with strong reading and writing skills as well as the ability to understand scientific concepts The Handbook of Research on Science Literacy Integration in Classroom Environments is a pivotal reference source that provides vital research on the importance of cross curriculum discipline connections in improving student understanding and education While highlighting topics such as curriculum integration online learning and instructional coaching this publication explores practices in teaching students how to analyze and interpret data as well as reading writing and speaking This book is ideally designed for teachers graduate level students academicians instructional designers administrators and education researchers seeking current research on science literacy adoption in contemporary classrooms Understanding Trajectories and Promoting Change From Early to Complex Skills in Typical and Atypical Development: A Cross-Population Approach Alessandra Sansavini,Annalisa Guarini,Melissa Libertus,Klaus Libertus,Mariagrazia Benassi,Jana Iverson,2021-03-30
