The Modern Garden Pierluigi Serraino, 2024-10-01 Visionary landscape architecture and garden design at mid century in North America is captured by the greats of the era including Julius Shulman and Ezra Stoller in many previously unpublished photographs The treasures of mid century American architecture have long been celebrated Less appreciated has been the landscape design that provides the framing for these masterworks But more than frame landscape architecture is an art worthy of the spotlight particularly at mid century when the notion that gardens are outdoor spaces for people to live in was championed and brought to the fore now gardens and landscapes are not just external attributes to the house but a continuation of it and its living spaces in a relationship of symbiosis with its pools and terraces its winding lawns and its partly enclosed room like spaces flanked by brick or stone or plantings in a range of colors and forms Approximately seventy five mostly residential projects are thoroughly documented and recounted Landscape architects whose work is featured include Thomas Church Lawrence Halprin and Garrett Eckbo among others Highlights include the dramatic surrounds of Richard Neutra's Perkins House in its Pasadena hillside setting and Frank Lloyd Wright's Marin County Civic Center where environment and building comeingle in an extraordinary modernist vision of the future made real This book is both a wishful gesture toward a realignment of building with nature and a must have for anyone with a visceral appreciation for a designed environment understood as an integrated whole Ultimately the book underlines the fundamental importance of gardens and landscape design intended in the widest possible sense for the quality of living of all individuals

Gardens in the Modern Landscape Christopher Tunnard, 2014-07-11 Between 1937 and 1938 garden designer

Christopher Tunnard published a series of articles in the British Architectural Review that rejected the prevailing English landscape style. Inspired by the principles of Modernist art and Japanese aesthetics, Tunnard called for a new technique in garden design that emphasized an integration of form and purpose. The functional garden avoids the extremes both of the sentimental expressionism of the wild garden and the intellectual classicism of the formal garden; he wrote it embodies rather a spirit of rationalism and through an aesthetic and practical ordering of its units provides a friendly and hospitable milieu for rest and recreation. Tunnard's magazine pieces were republished in book form as Gardens in the Modern Landscape in 1938 and a revised second edition was issued a decade later. Taken together, these articles constituted a manifesto for the modern garden, its influence evident in the work of such figures as Lawrence Halprin, Philip Johnson, and Edward Larrabee Barnes. Long out of print, the book is here reissued in a facsimile of the 1948 edition, accompanied by a contextualizing foreword by John Dixon Hunt. Gardens in the Modern Landscape heralded a sea change in the evolution of twentieth-century design and it also anticipated questions of urban sprawl, historic preservation, and the dynamic between the natural and built environments. Available once more to students, practitioners, and connoisseurs, it stands as a historical document and an invitation to continued innovative thought about landscape architecture.

The Midcentury Modern Landscape Ethne Clarke, 2017-10-03. The Midcentury Modern Landscape explores the origins of midcentury modern garden design for the home, revealing how designers at the time blurred the divisions between indoors and outdoors, creating gardens that were for living, a style that went on to inspire contemporary gardens around the world. The Midcentury Modern Landscape is a fresh guide for those seeking bold approaches to redefine their outdoor space or wishing to learn more about the history of mid-century modern aesthetics.

Garrett Eckbo Marc Treib, Dorothee Imbert, 1997. The man and his work are given an appreciative investigation in Garrett Eckbo: Modern Landscapes for Living, a detailed and elegant study that features more than sixty of his projects, many published here for the first time. Marc Treib examines the aesthetic formation of Eckbo's manner and, by implication, the broader field of landscape architecture since the 1930s.
