Medicare Statistical Files Manual United States. Health Care Financing Administration. Bureau of Data Management and Strategy, 1988 Early Childhood Program Participation Data File User's Manual Mary A. Collins, 1996

The 1995 National Household Education Survey NHES 95 was a random digit dial telephone survey of households developed by the National Center for Education Statistics. The NHES 95 included two topical survey components: the Adult Education component which collected information about adults' participation in adult education and the Early Childhood Program Participation (ECPP) component which collected information about children's participation in nonparental child care and early childhood programs. This manual provides documentation and guidance for users of the public release data file for the ECPP component. Information about the purpose of the study, the data collection instruments, the sample design, and data collection and data processing procedures is provided. Some information about factors that should be kept in mind when using ECPP data is also provided. For the ECPP component, interviews were conducted with parents of 14,064 children, a figure that included 101 home-schooled children. Four appendixes present screening and study questionnaire information about the file layout, the Statistical Analysis System code for derived variables, and the ECPP codebook. Contains 8 tables, 2 figures, and 23 references. SLD Complete Guide To The Fragment Molecular Orbital Method In Gamess: From One Atom To A Million, At Your Service Dmitri G. Fedorov, 2023-02-17

The fragment molecular orbital (FMO) method is a fast linear scaling quantum mechanical method employed by chemists and physicists all over the world. It provides a wealth of properties of fragments from quantum chemical calculations, a bottomless treasure pit for data mining and machine learning. However, there is no user-friendly description of its usage in the widely employed quantum chemical open source software GAMESS, nor is there any book covering the usage of GAMESS in general. This leaves very many interested users to their own devices to get through a variety of problems with very cryptic descriptions of keywords in the program manual and no guide whatsoever as to what options should be set for particular scientific tasks. This book is the panacea to many frustrations. The main focus of the book is to build a solid bridge connecting FMO users to GAMESS by giving a helpful introduction of various FMO methods as needed for particular problems found in computational chemistry and describing in detail how to do these simulations and understand the results from the output of the program. The book also covers parallelization strategies for attaining high parallel efficiency in massively parallel computations and provides means to analyze performance and design a solution for overcoming performance bottlenecks. A special section is devoted to dealing with problems in executing GAMESS arising from computational environment and user errors. Finally, 14 carefully selected types of applications are discussed in detail, describing the input keywords and explaining where to find the main results in the text-based output. Listed
