Le Mouvement Performing The City:

The City and the Grassroots Manuel Castells, 1983      Public Art (Now) Claire Doherty, 2015-03-09 Public Art Now Out of Time Out of Place is the first survey of progressive public art from around the world. It presents some of the most significant artworks in the public realm from the last decade, challenging preconceptions about where, when, and how public art takes place. The face of public art is changing. For decades, art in the public realm has been characterized by the landmark sculpture or spectacular outdoor event that helps to define or brand a place. But in recent years, a new wave of international artists and producers has rejected the monumental scale and mass appeal of such artworks. Instead, these individuals and groups favour unconventional forms that unsettle rather than authenticate a place's identity, disrupt rather than embellish a particular location, and contest rather than validate the design and function of public space. Performed interactions, collaborative social movements, and small-scale subversive acts are just some of the unorthodox approaches taken by these artists. Their works challenge preconceived ideas about the role of art in place-making as they seek to remake places through radical forms and practices. Public Art Now Out of Time Out of Place presents the artists who have been redefining the practice of public art over the past decade. They directly address the most pressing issues of our time, including the encroachment of corporate concerns on public space, the implications of global migration, and the isolation of the individual, and the potential of collective action to share the future of our towns and cities. Some forty key works from around the world are organized into five sections: Displacement, Intervention, Disorientation, Occupation, and Perpetuation, with detailed descriptions and dozens of installation and process shots. Interviews and quotes from practitioners, commissioners, and commentators reveal the impetus and context for the projects, while the editor's introduction sets out the conceptual, practical, and ethical issues raised by the works. Bringing together the most significant artworks in the public realm of the last ten years, from ephemeral interventions to long-term ongoing projects, this dynamic survey is an essential reference for anyone interested in the ideas, issues, and impulses behind progressive public art and an accessible introduction to one of the most vibrant areas of contemporary art.      The Powers of Sound and Song in Early Modern Paris Nicholas

Hammond, 2019-11-11 The long and spectacular reign of Louis XIV of France is typically described in overwhelmingly visual terms. In this book, Nicholas Hammond takes a sonic approach to this remarkable age, opening our ears to the myriad ways in which sound revealed the complex acoustic dimensions of class, politics, and sexuality in seventeenth-century Paris. The discovery in the French archives of a four-line song from 1661 launched Hammond's research into the lives of the two men referenced therein: Jacques Chausson and Guillaume de Guitaut. In retracing the lives of these two men, one sentenced to death by burning and the other appointed to the Ordre du Saint-Esprit, Hammond makes astonishing discoveries about each man and the ways in which their lives intersected, all in the context of the sounds and songs heard in the court of Louis XIV and on the streets and bridges of Paris. Hammond's study shows how members of the elite and lower classes in Paris crossed paths in unexpected ways and moreover how noise in the ancien régime was central to questions of crime and punishment street singing was considered a crime in itself and yet street singers flourished circulating information about crimes that others may have committed while political and religious authorities wielded the powerful sounds of sermons and public executions to provide moral commentaries to control crime and to inflict punishment This innovative study explores the theoretical social cultural and historical contexts of the early modern Parisian soundscape It will appeal to scholars interested in sound studies and the history of sexuality as well as those who study the culture literature and history of early modern France

Martin Creed Martin Creed, 2017 Maverick London based Scottish artist Martin Creed b 1968 has spent the past twenty years subverting the fine lines between art and life art and silliness and art and provocation Melding Conceptual Art smarts and Minimalist literal mindedness in his videos paintings and sculptures Creed undermines the preciousness skill and aloofness of art This new monograph is not large but it is extensive enough to document the six site specific installations currently at the Kunsthalle Vogelmann including essays by Anouchka Grose and Matthias Lebeck and an interview with the artist by Beate Ermacora Awarded the Turner Prize in 2001 for a piece consisting of regularly switching a light on and off in a room Martin Creed's playful but rigorous work challenges the viewer to engage with art space and the world in general When asked why he made art Creed answered To make myself feel better His current turn at the Park Avenue Armory NY 2016 a kind of extended happening must be making him feel very good indeed

Honoring God and the City Jonathan Glaxon, 2003-03-27 This is the first detailed history of musical activities at Venetian lay confraternities Based on over two decades of research in Venetian archives the book traces musical practices from the origins of the earliest confraternities in the mid thirteenth century through their suppression under the French and Austrian governments of Venice in the early nineteenth century The first section of the book treats the scuole grandi the largest and most important of the Venetian confraternities and the only ones to maintain musical establishments for long periods The second portion of the book is concerned with the scuole piccole the numerous less important confraternities sometimes as many as 300 of which were active simultaneously located in churches throughout Venice Appendices include an attempt to reconstruct a calendar of musical events at all Venetian confraternities in the early eighteenth century demonstrating the vital role they played in the cultural and ceremonial life of this great city

Work and Employment in the High Performance Workplace Giles Anthony, Jacques Belanger, Paul-Andre Lapointe, Gregor Murray, 2013-10-11 There is a general consensus that deep seated changes are reshaping the way production and work are organized the way employees employers and their representatives deal with each other and the way governments seek to shape society In this work a group of leading scholars take stock of the evidence and implications of the new workplace Drawing on examples from a variety of national contexts they seek to characterize the nature of contemporary workplace change and assess its implications for the organization of work for workers for employment relations and for public policy

The Sustainable City X C.A. Brebbia, W.F.

Florez-Escobar,2015-09-01 Containing the proceedings of the 10th International Conference on Urban Regeneration and Sustainability this book addresses the multidisciplinary aspects of urban planning a result of the increasing size of cities the amount of resources and services required and the complexity of modern society Most of earth s population now lives in cities and the process of urbanisation continues generating many problems deriving from the drift of the population towards them These problems can be resolved by cities becoming efficient habitats saving resources in a way that improves the quality and standard of living The process however faces a number of major challenges related to reducing pollution improving main transportation and infrastructure systems New urban solutions are required to optimise the use of space and energy resources leading to improvements in the environment i e reduction in air water and soil pollution as well as efficient ways to deal with waste generation These challenges contribute to the development of social and economic imbalances and require the development of new solutions Large cities are probably the most complex mechanisms to manage However despite such complexity they represent a fertile ground for architects engineers city planners social and political scientists and other professionals able to conceive new ideas and time them according to technological advances and human requirements The challenge of planning sustainable cities lies in considering their dynamics the exchange of energy and matter and the function and maintenance of ordered structures directly or indirectly supplied and maintained by natural systems Topics covered include Urban Strategies Planning Development and Management Urban Conservation and Regeneration The Community and the City Eco town Planning Landscape Planning and Design Environmental Management Sustainable Energy and the City Transportation Quality of Life Architectural Issues Cultural Heritage Issues Intelligent Environment and Emerging Technologies Planning for Risk Disaster and Emergency Response Safety and Security Waste Management Infrastructure and Society Urban Metabolism     Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning 6 Christopher Silver,Robert Freestone,Christophe Demaziere,2017-08-24 The Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning series offers a selection of some of the best scholarship in urban and regional planning from around the world The internationally recognized authors of these award winning papers take up a range of salient issues from the theory and practice of planning This 6th volume incorporates essays that explore the salient issue commonly referred to as The Right to the City This theme speaks to a growing new movement within planning theory and practice with multiple aims and strategies but with the common objective of advancing a more just and equitable world The right to the city functions as a manifesto advancing academic explorations of the opportunities for and barriers to expanding human and environmental justice At the same time it extends beyond academic inquiry to engage directly with the policy legal and political dimensions of human rights The right to the city has been invoked by global bodies such as United Nations Habitat and the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization to bolster not only their agendas around fundamental human rights but advance urban policies promoting inclusion sustainability and resilience Dialogues 6 offers engaging explorations into the academic expeditions by the global planning community that have helped to energize this movement The papers assembled here through processes of peer review represent an invaluable collection to untangle the complexities of this dynamic new approach to urban and regional planning The Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning DURP series is published in association with the Global Planning Education Association Network GPEAN and its member national and transnational planning schools associations

Picturing Performance Thomas F. Heck,R. L. Erenstein,1999 There has long been a need to introduce performing arts enthusiasts and students to the fascinating field of iconography both as manifested in art history and in its more pragmatic or applied forms Yet relatively little systematic effort has been made to collect and interpret centuries of such visual evidence in the light of the best available art historical information combined with corroborating textual documentation and insights from the histories of performance disciplines Aspiring iconographers of the performing arts need to be aware that there are often several levels of interpretation which great works of visual art will sustain This book explores these levels of interpretation a surface or literal reading a deeper reading of the work which seeks to enter the mind of the artist and asks how and why he put a given work together and the deepest reading of the work relating it to the artistic traditions and culture in which the artist lived In expounding on these levels of iconographic interpretations four discourses by scholars active in the study of visual records are given in relation to traditions techniques and trends performance in general Katritzky music Heck theatre Erenstein and dance Smith Effort is made to keep abreast of modern technology influencing iconographic representations as on the Internet and virtual reality Thomas F Heck is Professor of Musicology and Head of the Music and Dance Library at the Ohio State University      Queer Nuns Melissa M.
