My Hrw Key Codes:

The Key to My Neighbor's House Elizabeth Neuffer, 2025-06-25 Interviewing war criminals and their victims Neuffer explains through the voices of people she follows over the course of a decade how genocide erodes a nation's social and political environment Her characters stories and their competing notions of justice from searching for the bodies of loved ones to demanding war crime trials to seeking bloody revenge convinces readers that crimes against humanity cannot be resolved by simple talk of forgiveness or through the more common recourse to forgetfulness The Publishers Weekly, 1964 The Women, Peace and Security Agenda Laura J. Shepherd, 2021-09-26 The Women Peace and Security WPS agenda is comprised of the policies protocols and practices enacted by a wide range of actors inspired by or under the auspices of the UN Security Council resolutions adopted under the title of women and peace and security Since the adoption of the first resolution in 2000 resolution 1325 there have been nine others each of which elaborates or extends aspects of the original resolution This book provides a forward looking collection of scholarship on the WPS agenda in two halves The first half of the book presents a series of essays that each provide a glimpse of the rich and insightful research on WPS being undertaken in and about different contexts to demonstrate the importance of centring the local as a site of knowledge production in the WPS agenda The essays presented in the second half of the book also engage questions of knowledge production documenting the exploratory methods in use in WPS scholarship and highlighting those topics engaged at the hinterlands of what is a broad field topics that gesture at the future of research in this area The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues of the International Feminist Journal of Politics Evolving Iran Barbara Ann Rieffer-Flanagan, 2013-03-22 Evolving Iran presents an overview of how the politics and policy decisions in the Islamic Republic of Iran have developed since the 1979 revolution and how they are likely to evolve in the near future Despite the fact that the revolution ushered in a theocracy its political system has largely tended to prioritize self interest and pragmatism over theology and religious values while continuing to reinvent itself in the face of internal and international threats The author also examines the prospects for democratization in Iran Since the early years of the twentieth century Iranians have attempted to make their political system more democratic yet various attempts to produce a system where citizens have a meaningful voice in political decisions have failed This book argues that greater democratization is unlikely to occur in the short term especially in light of increased threats from the international community This accessible overview of Iran's political system covers a broad array of subjects including foreign policy human rights women's struggle for equality the development and evolution of elections and the institutions of the political system including the Revolutionary Guards and Assembly of Experts It will appeal to undergraduates and the general public who seek to understand a country and regime that has mystified Westerners for decades The Gender Imperative Betty A. Reardon, Asha Hans, 2012-12-06 The book asserts that human security derives from the experience and expectation of human well being which depends on four essential conditions a life sustaining environment the meeting of essential physical needs respect for the identity and dignity of persons and groups protection from avoidable harm and expectations of remedy from them The book demonstrates their integral relationship to human security Patriarchy being the germinal paradigm from which most major human institutions such as the state the economy organised religions and social relations have evolved the book argues that fundamental inequalities must be challenged for the sake of equality and security The fundamental point raised is that expectation of human well being is a continuing cause of armed conflict which constitutes a threat to peace and survival of all humanity and human security cannot exist within a militarised security system The editors of the book bring together 14 essays which critically examine militarised security in order to find human security pathways show ways in which to refute the dominant paradigm indicate a clear gender analysis that challenges the current system and suggests alternatives to militarised security With a mix of female and male feminist scholar activists as contributors the book makes an important contribution to a new discourse on human security Catalog of Copyright Entries. Publishers Weekly ,1963 Violence in South Asia Pavan Kumar Malreddy,Anindya Sekhar Purakayastha,Birte Heidemann,2019-11-06 This volume explores new perspectives on contemporary forms of violence in South Asia Drawing on extensive fieldwork and case studies it examines the infiltration of violence at the societal level and affords a comparative regional analysis of its historical cultural and geopolitical origins in South Asia Featuring essays from Sri Lanka to Nepal and from Afghanistan to Burma it sheds light on issues as wide ranging as lynching and mob justice hate speech caste violence gender based violence and the plight of the Rohingyas among others Lucid and engaging this book will be an invaluable source of reference as well as scholarship to students and researchers of postcolonial studies anthropology sociology cultural geography minority studies politics and gender studies Crisis and Politicisation Benedetta Voltolini,Michal

Natorski,Colin Hay,2021-05-18 This book elucidates the link between the politics of a now seemingly permanent crisis in Europe and the politicisation of European integration Looking at the epistemic dimension of crises it suggests that the way in which a crisis is framed and contested determines its potential impact on the level of politicisation of European integration Europe is more challenged and contested today than it has even been facing crisis of an almost existential kind Yet political crises are manufactured and narrated so Europe has the possibility to intervene and bring about her recovery instead of letting these crises prove terminal This book explores the political process in and through which certain events come to be framed as constitutive of a moment that requires a decisive intervention It shows that crises require a double framing a situation needs to be identified as one of crisis in the first place and subsequently the nature and character of the crisis need to be specified By examining a wide range of policy areas the book demonstrates that framing of crises i e identifying one situation both as a crisis and a crisis of a particular kind contributes to the politicisation or depoliticisation of the process of European integration The chapters in this book were originally published as special issue of Journal of European Integration

Human Rights Law in Egypt and Malaysia: Minorities and Gender Equality, Volume 2 Asif Mohiuddin, 2024-12-26

In Muslim majority countries safeguarding minority rights and advancing gender equality are vital components of the broader human rights discussion. Minority rights encompass various groups including ethnic, religious, and linguistic minorities who often face discrimination, marginalisation, and unequal treatment within society. These challenges are rooted in historical, cultural, and socio-political factors that shape legal frameworks and societal attitudes towards minority communities. Similarly, gender dynamics play a significant role in the human rights discourse in these nations as women encounter various forms of discrimination and inequality such as limited access to education, employment, and participation in decision-making processes. This volume explores the legal frameworks concerning minority rights and gender equality in Egypt and Malaysia, shedding light on the challenges faced by marginalised groups in these countries. It evaluates the effectiveness of legal instruments and mechanisms in addressing discrimination and promoting inclusivity within these societies. Furthermore, it examines laws, government policies, and court rulings related to women's rights, covering essential topics such as education, employment, and political engagement. This volume offers valuable insights for policymakers, legal practitioners, academics, and activists dedicated to understanding and advocating for human rights in these societies.

Chemical Control Michael Crowley, 2016-01-26 This thoroughly researched study highlights the international community's failure to regulate contemporary state research, development, marketing, and/or deployment of riot control agents and incapacitating chemical agent weapons.

European Studies in Asia Georg Wiessala, 2014-03-21 As countries across Asia continue to rise and become more assertive global powers, the role that Higher Education has played and continues to play in this process is an issue of growing pertinence. Furthermore, understanding the relationship between Europe and Asia, fostered by historical and contemporary knowledge transfer, including Higher Education, is crucial to analysing and encouraging the progress of both regional integration and inter-regional cooperation. With a specific focus on international Higher Education, European Studies in Asia investigates knowledge transfer and channels of learning between Europe and Asia from historical, contemporary, and teaching perspectives. The book examines a selection of significant historical precedents of intellectual dialogue between the two regions and in turn explores contemporary cross-regional discourses both inside and outside of the official frameworks of the European Union (EU) and the Asia-Europe Meetings (ASEM). Drawing on extensive case studies based on many of his own teaching experiences, Georg Wiessala addresses key questions such as the nature and construction of the European Studies in Asia curriculum, aspects of values co-constructed learning and adult pedagogy in the discipline of European Studies in Asia, the politics of Asian host cultures, the internationalization of Asian Higher Education, and the experiences and expectations of tertiary sector students of this subject in Asia, Australia, and New Zealand. In doing so, the author articulates a range of outcomes for the further development of Higher Education cooperation agendas between Asia and Europe in the discipline of European Studies and in related fields such as International Relations This case study led book makes an original and novel contribution to our understanding of European Studies in Asia As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars of Asian Education Comparative Education European Studies and International Relations      Teaching Religious Literacy to Combat Religious Bullying W. Y. Alice Chan, 2021-05-05 This text explores the phenomenon of religious bullying as it manifests in two North American contexts and theorizes religious literacy as a viable school based intervention to promote understanding of religious and non religious difference Using substantive qualitative data from schools and communities in California and Quebec Teaching Religious Literacy to Combat Religious Bullying examines the impact of mandatory religious literacy courses delivered in secondary schools and identifies curricula teacher attitudes training and administrative support as key determinants of course impact Drawing on Bronfenbrenner s social ecological framework the text then illustrates how the environmental factors both in and outside of the school considerably influence teacher and student attitudes to religious and non religious traditions Practical recommendations are made to combat overarching societal trends and religious discrimination within the classroom and context is cited as key to an effective discussion on religious literacy more broadly This text will benefit researchers academics and educators with an interest in religious literacy religious education the sociology of education and those looking at the field of bullying and truancy more widely Those interested in intersectionality marginalized communities secularism and educational policy will also benefit from the volume      Holt Science and Technology 2002 Holt Rinehart & Winston, Holt, Rinehart and Winston Staff, 2002      Transmitting Rights Brian Greenhill, 2015 When considering the structures that drive the global diffusion of human rights norms Brian Greenhill argues that we need to look beyond institutions that are explicitly committed to human rights and instead focus on the dense web of international government organizations IGOs some big some small some focused on human rights some not that has arisen in the last two generations While most of these organizations have no direct connection to human rights issues their participation in broader IGO networks has important implications for the human rights practices of their member states Featuring a rigorous empirical analysis Transmitting Rights shows that countries tend to adopt similar human rights practices to those of their IGO partners whether for better or worse Greenhill argues that IGOs constitute a tightly woven fabric of ties between states and that this network provides an important channel through which states can influence the behavior of others Indeed his analysis suggests that a policy of isolating rogue states is probably self defeating given that this will reduce their exposure to some of the more positive IGO based influences on their human rights Greenhill s analysis of the role of IGOs in rights diffusion will not only increase our understanding of the international politics of human rights it will also reshape how we think about the role of international institutions in world politics      Chronicles of the Egyptian Revolution and its Aftermath: 2011-2016 M.
