Golbeck,2017-04-28 Equivalence Elizabeth L Scott at Berkeley is the compelling story of one pioneering statistician s relentless twenty year effort to promote the status of women in academe and science Part biography and part microhistory the book provides the context and background to understand Scott s masterfulness at using statistics to help solve societal problems In addition to being one of the first researchers to work at the interface of astronomy and statistics and an early practitioner of statistics using high speed computers Scott worked on an impressively broad range of questions in science from whether cloud seeding actually works to whether ozone depletion causes skin cancer Later in her career Scott became swept up in the academic women s movement She used her well developed scientific research skills together with the advocacy skills she had honed in such activities as raising funds for Martin Luther King Jr and keeping Free Speech Movement students out of jail toward policy making that would improve the condition of the academic workforce for women The book invites the reader into Scott s universe a window of inspiration made possible by the fact that she saved and dated every piece of paper that came across her desk Congressional Record United States. Congress,2013 The Schenley Experiment Jake Oresick,2017-04-14 The Schenley Experiment is the story of Pittsburgh s first public high school a social incubator in a largely segregated city that was highly even improbably successful throughout its 156 year existence Established in 1855 as Central High School and reorganized in 1916 Schenley High School was a model of innovative public education and an ongoing experiment in diversity Its graduates include Andy Warhol actor Bill Nunn and jazz virtuoso Earl Hines and its prestigious academic program and pensions lured such teachers as future Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather The subject of investment as well as destructive neglect the school reflects the history of the city of Pittsburgh and provides a study in both the best and worst of urban public education practices there and across the Rust Belt Integrated decades before Brown v Board of Education Schenley succumbed to default segregation during the white flight of the 1970s it rose again to prominence in the late 1980s when parents camped out in six day long lines to enroll their children in visionary superintendent Richard C Wallace s reinvigorated school Although the historic triangular building was a cornerstone of its North Oakland neighborhood and a showpiece for the city of Pittsburgh officials closed the school in 2008 citing over 50 million in necessary renovations a controversial event that captured national attention Schenley alumnus Jake Oresick tells this story through interviews historical documents and hundreds of first person accounts drawn from a community indelibly tied to the school A memorable important work of local and educational history his book is a case study of desegregation magnet education and the changing nature and legacies of America s oldest public schools Exploring the Contexts for Early Learning Rory McDowall Clark,2016-09-01 The concept of readiness for school is attractive to policy makers but many academics researchers and practitioners argue that an early start to formal learning may be misguided This book introduces readers to an increasing body of evidence which demonstrates that young children need opportunities to learn and develop in environments that support their emotional and cognitive needs offering opportunities to develop autonomy competence and self regulation skills With advice on implementing research findings in practice this book provides clear guidance on how to foster and develop these attributes scaffold steps into new areas of learning and support children in facing new challenges Chapters cover Policy and discourses Taking account of development Approaches to Early Years Learning The Diversity of

Children's Early Experiences Transitions and starting school Where to in the Future Exploring the Contexts for Early Learning will be essential reading for students practitioners policy makers and all those interested in the school readiness agenda

Osiris, Volume 38 James Evans, Adrian Johns, 2023-07-18 Perceptively explores the shifting intersections between algorithmic systems and human practices in the modern era How have algorithmic systems and human practices developed in tandem since 1800 This volume of Osiris deftly addresses the question dispelling along the way the traditional notion of algorithmic code and human craft as natural opposites Instead algorithms and humans have always acted in concert depending on each other to advance new knowledge and produce social consequences By shining light on alternative computational imaginaries Beyond Craft and Code opens fresh space in which to understand algorithmic diversity its governance and even its conservation The volume contains essays by experts in fields extending from early modern arithmetic to contemporary robotics Traversing a range of cases and arguments that connect politics historical epistemology aesthetics and artificial intelligence the contributors collectively propose a novel vocabulary of concepts with which to think about how the history of science can contribute to understanding today's world Ultimately Beyond Craft and Code reconfigures the historiography of science and technology to suggest a new way to approach the questions posed by an algorithmic culture not only improving our understanding of algorithmic pasts and futures but also unlocking our ability to better govern our present

Applied Mechanics Reviews, 1950 Assessing Contexts of Learning Susanne Kuger, Eckhard Klieme, Nina Jude, David Kaplan, 2016-12-05 This volume brings together educational effectiveness research and international large scale assessments demonstrating how the two fields can be applied to inspire and improve each other and providing readers direct links to instruments that cover a broad range of topics and have been shown to work in more than 70 countries The book's initial chapters introduce and summarize recent discussions and developments in the conceptualization implementation and evaluation of international large scale context assessments and provide an outlook on possible future developments Subsequently three thematic sections Student Background Outcomes of Education Beyond Achievement and Learning in Schools each present a series of chapters that provide the conceptual background for a wide range of important topics in education research policy and practice Each chapter defines a conceptual framework that relates recent findings in the educational effectiveness research literature to current issues in education policy and practice These frameworks were used to develop interesting and relevant indicators that may be used for meaningful reporting from international assessments other cross cultural research or national studies Using the example of one particular survey the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA 2015 this volume links all theoretical considerations to fully developed questionnaire material that was field tested and evaluated in questionnaires for students and their parents as well as teachers and principals in their schools The primary purposes of this book are to inform readers about how education effectiveness research and international large scale assessments are already interacting to inform research and policymaking to identify areas where a closer collaboration of both fields or input from other areas could further improve this work to provide sound theoretical frameworks for future work in both fields and finally to relate these theoretical debates to currently available and evaluated material for future context assessments

Drawing Futures Bob Sheil,Frédéric Migayrou,Luke Pearson,Laura Allen,2016-11-11 Drawing Futures brings together international designers and artists for speculations in contemporary drawing for art and architecture Despite numerous developments in technological manufacture and computational design that provide new grounds for designers the act of drawing still plays a central role as a vehicle for speculation There is a rich and long history of drawing tied to innovations in technology as well as to revolutions in our philosophical understanding of the world In reflection of a society now underpinned by computational networks and interfaces allowing hitherto unprecedented views of the world the changing status of the drawing and its representation as a political act demands a platform for reflection and innovation Drawing Futures will present a compendium of projects writings and interviews that critically reassess the act of drawing and where its future may lie Drawing Futures focuses on the discussion of how the field of drawing may expand synchronously alongside technological and computational developments The book coincides with an international conference of the same name taking place at The Bartlett School of Architecture UCL in November 2016 Bringing together practitioners from many creative fields the book discusses how drawing is changing in relation to new technologies for the production and dissemination of ideas

Does Torture Work? John W. Schiemann,2015-10-01 Is interrogational torture effective What do we mean by effective How brutal can torture get and be considered justifiable In this book John Schiemann adopts game theory in an attempt to answer these questions walking the reader through the logic of interrogational torture and finding that it is far more brutal than proponents believe

What's Our Problem? Tim Urban,2023-02-21 From the creator of the wildly popular blog Wait But Why a fun and fascinating deep dive into what the hell is going on in our strange unprecedented modern times Between 2013 and 2016 Tim Urban became one of the world s most popular bloggers writing dozens of viral long form articles about everything from AI to colonizing Mars to procrastination Then he turned his attention to a new topic the society around him Why was everything such a mess Why was everyone acting like such a baby When did things get so tribal Why do humans do this stuff This massive topic sent Tim tumbling down his deepest rabbit hole yet through mountains of history evolutionary psychology political theory neuroscience and modern day political movements as he tried to figure out the answer to a simple question What s our problem Six years later he emerged from the hole holding this book What s Our Problem is a deep and expansive analysis of our modern times in the classic style of Wait But Why packed with original concepts sticky metaphors and 300 drawings The book provides an entirely new framework and language for thinking and talking about today s complex world Instead of focusing on the usual left center right horizontal political axis which is all about what we think the book introduces a vertical axis that explores how we think as individuals and as groups Readers will find themselves on a delightful and fascinating journey that will ultimately change the way they see the world around them Anyway he wanted to say a lot more about all of this but there was a word limit on this book description so just go read the book
