Memory A Very Short Introduction:

Memory: A Very Short Introduction Jonathan K. Foster, 2009 Why can we sometimes remember events from our childhood as if they happened yesterday but not what we did last week How are memories stored in the brain and how does our memory change as we age What happens when our memory goes wrong and how easy is it for others to manipulate our memories This fascinating Very Short Introduction brings together the latest research in psychology and neuroscience to address these and many other important questions about the science of memory revealing how our memory works why we couldn't live without it and even how we may learn to remember more BOOK JACKET Memory Jonathan

Foster, 2026-01-22 This Very Short Introduction draws on the latest research in neuroscience and psychology to explore the science of memory It uses case studies anecdotes literature and philosophy to explain how memory works and why we can't live without it Memory Jonathan K. Foster, 2009 Jonathan K Foster brings together research in neuroscience and psychology weaving in case studies anecdotes literature and philosophy to explore and explain the science of memory how it works and why we can't live without it Performing Early Christian Literature Kelly Iverson, 2021-10-07 Scholars of early Christian literature acknowledge that oral traditions lie behind the New Testament gospels While the concept of orality is widely accepted it has not resulted in a corresponding effort to understand the reception of the gospels within their oral milieu In this book Kelly Iverson reconsiders the experiential context in which early Christian literature was received and interpreted He argues that reading and performance are distinguishable media events and significantly that they produce distinctive interpretive experiences for readers and audiences alike Iverson marshals an array of methodological perspectives demonstrating how performance generates a unique experiential context that shapes and informs the interpretive process Iverson's study explores the dynamic oral environment in which ancient audiences experienced the gospel stories He shows why an understanding of oral performance has important implications for the study of the NT as well as for several issues that are largely unquestioned by biblical scholars The College Lecture Today Lee Trepanier, 2019-06-26 In an age of online education and educational philosophies like flipping the classroom does the lecture have any role in today's university Drawing from the humanities and social sciences and from a range of different types of schools The College Lecture Today makes the affirmative case for the lecture in the humanities and social and political sciences These essays explore how to lecture without sacrificing theoretical knowledge Shakespeare and Memory Hester Lees-Jeffries, 2013-08-22 Shakespeare and Memory explores Shakespeare's plays and poems in the light of current interest in memory studies It sets out key features of the historical religious and cultural context of Shakespeare's own time Memory, Place and Identity Danielle

Drozdowski, Sarah De Nardi, Emma Waterton, 2016-05-20 This book bridges theoretical gaps that exist between the meta-concepts of memory place and identity by positioning its lens on the emplaced practices of commemoration and the remembrance of war and conflict This book examines how diverse publics relate to their wartime histories through engagements with everyday collective memories in differing places Specifically addressing questions of place making displacement and identity contributions shed new light on the processes of commemoration of war in everyday urban fa ades and within generations of families and national communities Contributions seek to clarify how we connect with memories and places of war and conflict The spatial and narrative manifestations of attempts to contextualise wartime memories of loss trauma conflict victory and suffering are refracted through the roles played by emotion and identity construction in the shaping of post war remembrances This book offers a multidisciplinary perspective with insights from history memory studies social psychology cultural and urban geography to contextualise memories of war and their use by national governments perpetrators victims and in family histories Hermeneutics, History and Memory Philip Gardner, 2010-01-21 This book presents a novel contribution to topical academic debate seeing the sceptical challenge as an opportunity for reflection on history s key processes and practices The Mobility of Memory Luisa Passerini, Milica Trakilović, Gabriele Proglia, 2020-10-06 Migration is most concretely defined by the movement of human bodies but it leaves indelible traces on everything from individual psychology to major social movements Drawing on extensive field research and with a special focus on Italy and the Netherlands this interdisciplinary volume explores the interrelationship of migration and memory at scales both large and small ranging across topics that include oral and visual forms of memory archives and artistic innovations By engaging with the complex tensions between roots and routes minds and bodies The Mobility of Memory offers an incisive and empirically grounded perspective on a social phenomenon that continues to reshape both Europe and the world Memory Unbound Lucy Bond, Stef Craps, Pieter Vermeulen, 2016-11-01 Though still a relatively young field memory studies has undergone significant transformations since it first coalesced as an area of inquiry Increasingly scholars understand memory to be a fluid dynamic unbound phenomenon a process rather than a reified object Embodying just such an elastic approach this state of the field collection systematically explores the transcultural transgenerational transmedial and transdisciplinary dimensions of memory four key dynamics that have sometimes been studied in isolation but never in such an integrated manner Memory Unbound places leading researchers in conversation with emerging voices in the field to recast our understanding of memory s distinctive variability Memory and the English Reformation Alexandra Walsham, Bronwyn Wallace, Ceri Law, Brian Cummings, 2020-11-12 The dramatic religious revolutions of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries involved a battle over social memory On one side the Reformation repudiated key aspects of medieval commemorative culture on the other traditional religion claimed that Protestantism was a religion without memory This volume shows how religious memory was sometimes attacked and extinguished while at other times rehabilitated in a modified guise It investigates how new modes of memorialisation were embodied in texts material objects images physical buildings rituals and bodily gestures Attentive to the roles played by denial amnesia and fabrication it also considers the retrospective processes by which the English Reformation became identified as an historic event Examining dissident as well as official versions of this story this richly illustrated interdisciplinary collection traces how memory of the religious revolution evolved in the two centuries following the Henrician schism and how the Reformation embedded itself in the early modern cultural imagination Postnational Memory, Peace and War Nigel Young, 2019-11-26 This book examines the phenomenon of modern memory as a reaction to total war an aspiration to truth seeking provoked by the independent forces of modern war and collective violence which is transnational or postnational in character Using examples from prose and poetry film and theatre painting and photography and music and the popular arts the author traces a narrative path through the events of the twentieth century defining the tradition of modern memory in terms of its essentially anti militaristic anti war character as expressed in the manner in which it represents recalled violence and atrocity Through a series of thematic discussions of two world wars the Shoah urbicide and nuclear weapons Postnational Memory explores the formation of transnational memory drawing on examples from industrialized societies with a focus on memory of real events and their reproduction in literature and the arts often including personal recollections that link the self to the represented past As such by asking how the concept of modern memory is constructed through the victims of war and genocide the book constitutes an alternative to national memories and hegemonic militarist or ethnocentric histories Surveying the emergence of new transnational forms of remembering the past it will appeal to students and scholars of sociology memory studies and peace studies as well as those working in disciplines such as modern and international history cultural studies and military studies

Configuring Memory in Czech Family Sagas Marcin Filipowicz, 2021-11-09 Configuring Memory in Czech Family Sagas The Art of Forgetting in Generic Tradition explores how literature may configure family memory Family sagas can be viewed as a structure helping us to share our memories Special attention will be paid to crucial generic motifs within family sagas as well as to elements of the narrative structure which hold powerful memory forming potential The book proves that this potential can be fulfilled in two ways The genre under analysis tends to strengthen the bad family memory and consider it as a burden and to encourage one to forget their family past Despite the prevalence of the saga as a cultural form right across mass media the literary genre of the family saga has not attracted intensive critical acclaim Readers of this book will not only learn more about the genre of family saga but also be encouraged to reflect on their own family memories Modernities, Memory and Mutations Abby Day, Mia Lövhelm, 2016-03-03 Grace Davie one of the world's most influential scholars in contemporary sociology of religion has furthered a tradition developed by David Martin and others in comparative sociology of religion and modernity in European and international perspective Davie's writings on belief and belonging particularly in a context outside active Church participation have contributed important understandings of the cultural role of religion as memory and practice in contemporary European societies Through her most recent work on new roles of religion in relation to the political legal and welfare sectors of society she has addressed debates on the resurgence of religion and the post secular condition Modernities Memory and Mutations presents an overview and critical engagement with contemporary themes in the sociology of religion which will inform current and forthcoming generations of scholars Reflecting on how Grace Davie's contributions have influenced their own work and wider debates in the field leading international scholars engage with themes Davie has critically explored across religious studies and mainstream sociology evolving a new research agenda for sociology of religion Media, Materiality and Memory Dr Elodie Amandine Roy, 2015-10-28 Media Materiality and Memory examines the entwinement of material music objects technology and memory in relation to a range of independent record labels Moving from Edison's phonograph to digital music files from record collections to online archives Roy argues that materiality plays a crucial role in constructing and understanding the territory of recorded sound A substantial contribution to the field of music and material culture studies this book provides a nuanced and timely reflection on nostalgia and forgetting in the digital age Working Memory and Language in the Modular Mind John Truscott, 2022-06-16 The book explores two fundamental aspects of the human mind and their relation to one another The first is the way that information is put to use in the mind When we are doing a mental arithmetic problem for example how do we bring the relevant bits of information to mind and hold them there while carrying out the series of calculations This is working memory the subject of an enormous research literature in psychology neuroscience and a great many other disciplines Characterizing the working memory process is now a major part of efforts to understand the human mind How we characterize this process depends of course on how we characterize the human mind as a whole In particular is the mind made up of a number of distinct units each carrying out a specialized function There is considerable reason to say that it is and this modular view of the mind has become prominent in a great deal of academic work notably in cognitive neuroscience with important implications for our understanding of how working memory works But these implications have received surprisingly little consideration to this point The aim of the book is to explore this relation between working memory and modularity first in general terms and then using a specific modular view of the mind the Modular Cognition Framework The ideas are illustrated and further developed through an application to language and especially second language acquisition and use Jesus the Jew in Christian Memory Barbara U. Meyer, 2020-03-12 Shows how research and reflection on Jesus's Jewishness transforms contemporary Christian thought on memory otherness natality and law European Memory in Populism Chiara De Cesari, Ayhan Kaya, 2019-10-08 European Memory in Populism explores the links between memory and populism in contemporary Europe Focusing on circulating ideas of memory especially European memory in contemporary populist discourses the book also analyses populist ideas in sites and practices of remembrance that usually tend to go unnoticed More broadly the theoretical heart of the book reflects upon the similarities differences and slippages between memory populism nationalism and cultural racism and the ways in which social memory contributes to give substance to various ideas of what constitutes the people in populist discourse and beyond Bringing together a group of political scientists anthropologists and cultural and memory studies scholars the book illuminates the relationship between memory and populism from different angles and in different contexts The contributors to the volume discuss dominant notions of European heritage that circulate in the public sphere and in political discourse and consider how the politics of fear relates to such notions of European heritage and identity across and beyond Europe and the European Union Ultimately this volume will shed light on how notions of a shared European heritage and memory can be used not only to include and connect Europeans but also to exclude some of them Investigating the ways in which nationalist populist forces mobilize the idea of a shared homogeneous European civilization European Memory in Populism will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of European studies heritage and memory studies migration studies anthropology political science and sociology Chapters 1 4 6 and 10 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Borders, Memory and Transculturality Angela Vaupel, 2017 This annotated bibliography provides a guide for grappling with border issues and offers an account of the research discourse on the interdisciplinary disciplines of Border Studies Memory Studies and Teacher Education the reviews collected in this volume connect a variety of approaches such as education for diversity and inclusion borders memories and their representation in the media Museum Studies and pedagogy and present a wealth of information and material that refers to major socio historical events which shaped European regions and dominated public debate Angela Vaupel is a senior lecturer at St Mary's University College Belfast and has widely published on aspects of European Cultural Studies

Handbook of Pre-Modern Nordic Memory Studies Jürg Glauser, Pernille Hermann, Stephen A. Mitchell, 2018-11-19 In recent years the field of Memory Studies has emerged as a key approach in the Humanities and Social Sciences and has increasingly shown its ability to open new windows on Nordic Studies as well The entries in this book document the work to date of this approach on the pre modern Nordic world mainly the Viking Age and the Middle Ages but including as well both earlier and later periods Given that Memory Studies is an ever expanding critical strategy the approximately eighty contributors in this volume also discuss the potential for future research in this area Topics covered range from texts to performance to visual and other aspects of material culture all approached from within an interdisciplinary framework International specialists coming from such relevant fields as archaeology mythology history of religion folklore history law art literature philology language and mediality offer assessments on the relevance of Memory Studies to their disciplines and show it at work in case studies Finally this handbook demonstrates the various levels of culture where memory had a critical impact in the pre modern North and how deeply embedded the role of memory is in the material itself
