Donnall Thomas, James A. Thomson, 2005-11-22 This abridged version of the bestselling reference Handbook of Stem Cells Two Volume Set attempts to incorporate all the essential subject matter of the original two volume edition in a single volume The material has been reworked in an accessible format suitable for students and general readers interested in following the latest advances in stem cells including full color presentation throughout Although some extra language and chapters have been deleted rigorous effort has been made to retain from the original two volume set the material pertinent to the understanding of this exciting area of biology The organization of the book remains largely unchanged combining the prerequisites for a general understanding of adult and embryonic stem cells the tools methods and experimental protocols needed to study and characterize stem cells and progenitor populations as well as a presentation by the world's experts of what is currently known about each specific organ system Full color presentation throughout Each chapter begins with 3-5 defined glossary terms and all of the terms are collected in a comprehensive list within the book References have been eliminated now there are about 10 bibliographic entries per chapter Responses to Human Cloning Josep Egozcue, Institut d'Estudis Catalans. Secció de Ciències Biològiques, Françoise Shenfield, 1999 Key Questions in Education John T. Smith, 2016-06-16 The media is full of reference to failing schools troublesome pupils underperforming boys disappearing childhood and a teaching profession in crisis as more and more teachers contemplate abandoning their careers Key Questions in Education looks at the current and historical debates of each of these issues examining how a multitude of stakeholders have viewed and still view childhood and schooling In highlighting how these same or similar issues have persistently been debated throughout time John T Smith shows something of their complexity and the need to break apart these key enduring questions in education Each chapter covers a key question such as How far should the state interfere in education Should schools feed their pupils and Why do children misbehave Analysing each key question chapters discuss how such issues were viewed or defined in the past what solutions and outcomes were envisaged and compare and contrast how this relates to where we are now Clear links are made throughout between historical sources and current ideology policy practice and research In opening up these debates through case studies and vignettes students are encouraged to reflect on how these contentious issues might be resolved and how this affects them as future educators

Essential Building Blocks of Human Nature Ulrich J. Frey, Charlotte Störmer, Kai P. Willführ, 2010-11-08 To understand why we humans are as we are it is necessary to look at the essential building blocks that comprise our nature The foundations of this structure are our evolutionary origins as primates and our social roots Upon these rest features such as our emotions language and aesthetic preferences with our self-perceptions self-deceptions and thirst for knowledge right at the top The unifying force holding these blocks together is evolutionary theory Evolution provides a deeper understanding of human nature and in particular of the common roots of these different perspectives To build a reliable and coherent model of man leading authors from fields as diverse as primatology anthropology neurobiology and philosophy have joined forces to present essays each describing their own expert perspective Together they provide a convincing and complete picture of our own human nature

How We Do It Robert Martin, 2013-06-11 Despite the widespread belief that natural is better when it comes to sex pregnancy and parenting most of us have no idea what natural really means the origins of our reproductive lives remain a mystery Why are a quarter of a billion sperm cells needed to fertilize one egg Are women really fertile for only a few days each month How long should babies be breast fed In How We Do It primatologist Robert Martin draws on forty years of research to locate the roots of everything from our sex cells to the way we care for newborns He examines the procreative history of humans as well as that of our primate kin to reveal what's really natural when it comes to making and raising babies and distinguish which behaviors we ought to continue and which we should not Although it's not realistic to raise our children like our ancestors did Martin's investigation reveals surprising consequences of and suggests ways to improve upon the way we do things now For instance he explains why choosing a midwife rather than an obstetrician may have a greater impact than we think on our birthing experience examines the advantages of breast feeding for both mothers and babies and suggests why babies may be ready for toilet training far earlier than is commonly practiced How We Do It offers much needed context for our reproductive and child rearing practices and shows that once we understand our evolutionary past we can consider what worked what didn't and what it all means for the future of our species

Islamic Ethics and the Genome Question, 2018-12-24 Islamic Ethics and the Genome Question is one of the very first academic works which examine the field of genomics from an Islamic perspective This twelve chapter volume presents the results from a pioneering seminar held in 2017 at the Research Center for Islamic Legislation Ethics College of Islamic Studies Hamad Bin Khalifa University in Qatar The contributors to this volume coming from different disciplines and specializations approached the key ethical questions raised by the emerging field of genomics viz the Genome Question GQ from various angles and perspectives Their shared thesis is that the breadth and depth of both the GQ and the Islamic tradition necessitate going beyond just producing quick answers in response to immediate questions In order to accommodate the complexity and wide scope of the GQ the volume included critical analyses of the ethical discourse on genomics from outside the Islamic tradition Within the Islamic tradition the contributing authors explored how the QG can be better explored by involving insights from various disciplines including Quran exegesis Islamic jurisprudence philosophy and theology Besides its interest for researchers and students specialized in ethics bioethics and Islamic studies this volume will be a source of important information for geneticists genomicists and social scientists who are interested in the ethical discourse about genomics in the Muslim world Contributors include Arzoo Ahmed Abbas Amir Saadia Bendenia Mohammed Ghaly Mutaz al Khatib Amara Naceur Aasim I Padela Ayman Shabana Trevor Stammers Mehrunisha Suleman and Hub Zwart Stem Cells in Human Reproduction Carlos Simon, Antonio Pellicer, 2006-12-05 This book gives an overview of the revolutionary advances in stem cell science that may potentially impact human reproductive medicine The contents cover the production and regeneration of female and male germ cells trophoblasts and endometrium from human embryonic and adult stem cells New developments in hESC derivation that will impact clinic Perspectives on the Politics of Abortion Ted G. Jelen, 1995-08-22 Perspectives on the Politics of Abortion examines the abortion issue from ethical empirical and legal angles and offers some rather unconventional analyses and surprising conclusions with regard to this familiar issue One chapter argues that the emphasis on rights has made illegal and occasionally violent activity on the part of pro life activists increasingly likely Another chapter suggests that abortion is an instance of the more general right to self defense A chapter considers the problem of abortion from the standpoint of participants in the political process And chapters examine the political tactics of the Roman Catholic Church and abortion rights in terms of constitutional due process This important volume adds new voices and perspectives to the abortion debate
