Gauteng Archive Of Past Question Papers:

The African Photographic Archive Christopher Morton, Darren Newbury, 2020-10-15 African photography has emerged as a significant focus of research and scholarship over the last twenty years the result of a growing interest in postcolonial societies and cultures and a turn towards visual evidence across the humanities and social sciences At the same time many rich and fascinating photographic collections have come to light This volume explores the complex theoretical and practical issues involved in the study of African photographic archives based on case studies drawn from across the continent dating from the 19th century to the present day Chapters consider what constitutes an archive from the familiar mission and state archives to more local vernacular and personal accumulations of photographs the importance of a critical and reflexive engagement with photographic collections and the question of where and what is Africa as constructed in the photographic archive Essential reading for all researchers working with photographic archives this book consolidates current thinking on the topic and sets the agenda for future research in this field

Archives, Objects, Places and Landscapes Munyaradzi Manyanga, Shadreck Chirikure, 2017-04-11 Dissatisfaction has matured in Africa and elsewhere around the fact that often the dominant frameworks for interpreting the continents past are not rooted on the continents value system and philosophy This creates knowledge that does not make sense especially to local communities The big question therefore is can Africans develop theories that can contribute towards the interpretation of the African past using their own experiences Framed within a concept revision substrate the collection of papers in this thought provoking volume argues for concept revision as a step towards decolonizing knowledge in the post colony The various papers powerfully expose that cleansed knowledge is not only locally relevant it is also locally accessible and globally understandable

Public Memory, Public Media and the Politics of Justice P. Lee, P. Thomas, 2012-08-13 Exposing how memory is constructed and mediated in different societies this collection explores particular contexts to identify links between the politics of memory media representations and the politics of justice questioning what we think we know and understand about recent history demonstrates how she was able to use visual arts training in disenfranchised communities as a tool for political and social transformation in South Africa Using her own fieldwork as a case study Berman shows how hands on work in the arts with learners of all ages and backgrounds can contribute to economic stability by developing new skills as well as enhancing public health and gender justice within communities Berman s work and the community artwork her book documents present the visual arts as a crucial channel for citizens to find their individual voices and to become agents for change in the arenas of human rights and democracy Archives and Justice V. S. Harris,2007 History, Practice and Pedagogy Susan Barahal,Elizabeth Pugliano,2024-11-21 This edited volume explores the historical practical and pedagogical possibilities for expressing and cultivating empathy through works of art While aspects of what we today recognize as empathy has nestled in the artistic experiences and philosophies of all ages the subjective and elusive nature of empathic responses has often resulted in the relegation of empathy to the margins of art historical inquiry Moving into the second quarter of the twenty first century amidst global health crises civic unrest political turmoil and persistent social inequities and injustices this capacity to feel with and as someone or something outside of ourselves is more critical than ever Probing the very notion of empathy contributions address themes ranging from environmental and social justice to identity and inclusion to transdisciplinary pedagogies and practices each with a critical eye to how works of art not only appeal to empathic sensibilities but might play an active role in developing capacities for empathy in viewers World Directory of Map Collections Olivier Loiseaux,Section of Geography and Map Libraries,2012-01-02 No detailed description available for World Directory of Map Collections Archivaria ,1996 A Directory of Archival Repositories in South Africa ,1999 Oral history in South Africa Sekgothe Mokgoatšana,2025-05-06 Colonial and apartheid era historical narratives in South Africa often disregard oral testimonies leaving significant gaps in understanding the country s rich and complex past This scholarly book explores the methodologies and ethics of oral history to address these omissions and to elevate oral testimonies as vital tools in historical scholarship This book brings together ten chapters authored by leading academics and researchers It critically examines how oral history methodologies can be contextualised within South Africa s diverse and multifaceted society Rather than focusing on Eurocentric approaches it emphasises the need to rethink the ethics and practices of oral history from an Afrocentric perspective Through its transdisciplinary and interdisciplinary lens spanning history indigenous knowledge studies museum and archival studies and folklore this book advocates for the recognition of interviewees as knowledge holders fostering meaningful exchanges rather than mere knowledge extraction The authors emphasise the need to protect and expand oral history archives ensuring the representation of marginalised voices and redressing past injustices With original research this volume sheds light on the transformative potential of oral history in South Africa offering new arguments and perspectives It aims to inspire scholars researchers and specialists to rethink conventional practices and to bridge the divide between written and oral histories This is essential literature for scholars and practitioners in history oral history theology museum studies and related fields as it reimagines the role of oral testimonies in producing inclusive and credible historical narratives Gaffney's Local Government in South Africa ,2007 A World of Their Own Meghan Healy-Clancy,2014-06-19 The politics of black education has long been a key issue in southern African studies but despite rich debates on the racial and class dimensions of schooling historians have neglected their distinctive gendered dynamics A World of Their Own is the first book to explore the meanings of black women s education in the making of modern South Africa Its lens is a social history of the first high school for black South African women Inanda Seminary from its 1869 founding outside of Durban through the recent past Employing diverse archival and oral historical sources Meghan Healy Clancy reveals how educated black South African women developed a tradition of social leadership by both working within and pushing at the boundaries of state power She demonstrates that although colonial and apartheid governance marginalized women politically it also valorized the social contributions of small cohorts of educated black women This made space for growing numbers of black women to pursue careers as teachers and health workers over the course of the twentieth century After the student uprisings of 1976 as young black men increasingly rejected formal education for exile and street politics young black women increasingly stayed in school and cultivated an alternative form of student politics Inanda Seminary students experiences vividly show how their academic achievements challenged the narrow conceptions of black women s social roles harbored by both officials and black male activists By the transition to democracy in the early 1990s black women outnumbered black men at every level of education introducing both new opportunities for women and gendered conflicts that remain acute today Afterimages of Apartheid Kylie Thomas,2025-10-29 Afterimages of Apartheid shows how photographs of the past can be mobilised as a critical tool for understanding the ongoing effects of apartheid in contemporary South Africa Through close readings of significant images made during and after apartheid the book shows how photography works as a means of documentation commemoration and resistance Written by one of South Africa s leading scholars of visual history the book considers the ways in which photographs can be used to contest impunity for state violence Afterimages includes chapters on the Sharpeville and Marikana massacres on the re opening of cases of human rights violations that remain unresolved in the aftermath of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and on contemporary protests against the post apartheid state The book makes a powerful case for the role of photographs in drawing the viewer into the past time they represent issuing a call to the living to remember respond and react This vivid account of the photography of apartheid will be of interest to students and researchers across the fields of South African history visual studies memory studies art history photography studies and transitional justice Subjectivity, Language and the Postcolonial Hannah Botsis,2017-11-10 In Subjectivity Language and the Postcolonial Hannah Botsis draws on theoretical work that exists at the intersection of critical social psychology sociolinguistics and the political economy of language to examine the relationships between language subjectivity materiality and political context The book foregrounds the ways in which the work of Bourdieu could be read in conjunction with poststructural theorists such as Butler and Derrida to offer a critical understanding of subjectivity language and power in postcolonial contexts This critical engagement with theorists traditionally from outside of psychology allows for a situated approach to understanding the embodied and symbolic possibilities and constraints for the postcolonial subject This exploration opens up how micro politics of power are refracted through ideological categories such as language race and class in post apartheid South Africa Also drawing on the empirical findings of original research undertaken in the South African context on students linguistic biographies the book offers a unique perspective critical social theory is brought to bear on the empirical linguistic biographies of postcolonial subjects offering insight into how power is negotiated in the postcolonial symbolic economy Ideal for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students on courses including social psychology sociolinguistics sociology politics and education this is an invaluable resource for students and researchers alike

The map of Gauteng: evolution of a city-region in concept and plan Allan Mabin, 2013-07-26 The mission of the Gauteng City Region Observatory GCRO is to help illuminate trends and dynamics shaping the region of towns and cities in and around Gauteng and also enhance understanding of the idea of the Gauteng City Region GCR as a project a different way of thinking about and governing this space While much of the data collection and analysis work of the GCRO is focused on the present we also consider the city region s past and its possible futures A 2030 National Development Plan crafted by the National Planning Commission has recently been adopted In addition the Gauteng Provincial Government working with municipal partners and business civil society and labour stakeholders is drafting a G2055 long term development plan As our society looks forward to what sort of country and region we need to become it is also important to look backward Understanding the past gives us insights into how we have come to be where we are now and so in turn what paths we should tread into the future This Occasional Paper is one of two that GCRO has commissioned specifically to deepen our understanding of the past of the GCR Both focus on aspects of the region s spatial past and ought to be read together This paper by Alan Mabin explores how the idea of a city region found expression in various statutory planning frameworks over the course of the last century and how embryonic cityregion concepts influenced spatial decisions and developments The companion paper by Brian Mubiwa and Harold Annegarn considers the different but related issue of the actual historical spatial evolution of the GCR It examines key spatial changes that have shaped the region over a century and provides a remarkable picture based on satellite imagery of regional spatial growth in the last two decades

S. A. argiefblad, 1996 Reimagining Social Medicine from the South Abigail H. Neely, 2021-07-12 In Reimagining Social Medicine from the South Abigail H Neely explores social medicine s possibilities and limitations at one of its most important origin sites the Pholela Community Health Centre PCHC in South Africa The PCHC s focus on medical and social factors of health yielded remarkable success And yet South Africa s systemic racial inequality hindered health center work and witchcraft illnesses challenged a program rooted in the sciences To understand Pholela s successes and failures Neely interrogates the social in social medicine She makes clear that the social sciences the PCHC used failed to account for the roles that Pholela s residents and their environment played in the development and success of its program At the same time the PCHC s reliance on biomedicine prevented it from recognizing the impact on health of witchcraft illnesses and the social relationships from which they emerged By rewriting the story of social medicine from Pholela Neely challenges global health practitioners to recognize the multiple worlds and actors that shape health and healing in Africa and beyond
