Introduction

In most cases, individuals suffer from a terminal illness that causes them constant pain throughout their lives. Such a disease does not have a cure, thus, the patient depends only on the painkillers to reduce the agony they are experiencing. Through euthanasia, appropriate medical practices are used to facilitate easy and quick death that does not increase the pain to the victim. Furthermore, by having laws that guarantee the application of euthanasia, patients will have reduced suicidal thoughts that can affect their well-being and increase their mental problems. The practice will allow the sick person to be at ease, knowing that if they make a request, it will be permitted as per their will.

The pain and suffering associated with terminal diseases are unbearable. The fact that patients after diagnosis are made aware of the situation increases the stress and agony that drains their lives. Moreover, understanding that irrespective of any significant effort applied, the end result will be death in the future. When such thought accumulates in the minds of sick individuals, their physical and emotional health declines. In such conditions, instead of allowing the patient to undergo extreme pain and pressure,
