Political Monopolies in American Cities Jessica Trounstein, 2008-09-15 Around the same time that Richard J Daley governed Chicago greasing the wheels of his notorious political machine during a tenure that lasted from 1955 to his death in 1976 Anthony Dutch Hamann s reform government centralized authority to similar effect in San Jose In light of their equally exclusive governing arrangements a similarity that seems to defy their reputations Jessica Trounstein asks whether so called bosses and reformers are more alike than we might have realized Situating her in depth studies of Chicago and San Jose in the broad context of data drawn from more than 240 cities over the course of a century she finds that the answer a resounding yes illuminates the nature of political power Both political machines and reform governments she reveals bias the system in favor of incumbents effectively establishing monopolies that free governing coalitions from dependence on the support of their broader communities Ironically Trounstein goes on to show the resulting loss of democratic responsiveness eventually mobilizes residents to vote monopolistic regimes out of office Envisioning an alternative future for American cities Trounstein concludes by suggesting solutions designed to free urban politics from this damaging cycle

On Humane Governance Richard A. Falk,1995 This book contends that the forces of late modernism are being caught between a capital driven globalization and a territorially rooted revival of tribalism and ultra nationalism Its critical focus is on global structures that are producing new patterns of North South and rich poor domination as well as exerting dangerous pressures on the carrying capacities of the planet Richard Falk argues that any hopeful response to these threatening developments requires the fundamental revision of such basic ideas as sovereignty democracy and security These organizing conceptions of political life are being reshaped during this era of transition from a state centric world of geopolitics to a more centrally guided world of geogovernance He contends that geogovernance will have adverse consequences for the human condition unless it can be mainly constructed by transnational democratic forces animated by a vision of humane governance This volume was written for the Global Civilization Project of the World Order Models Project WOMP an international group of scholars formed to think creatively about legal and political structures adequate to the needs of the modern world
