Gender And Ageing Southeast Asian Perspectives:

Gender and Ageing Theresa W Devasahayam, 2014-11-07 This book examines common themes related to gender and ageing in countries in Southeast Asia. Derived from quantitative or qualitative methods of data collection and analysis, the chapters reveal how ageing has become tempered by globalization, cultural values, family structures, women's emancipation and empowerment, social networks, government policies, and religion. The chapters are concerned primarily with the following questions related to gender and ageing: a) how do women and men experience old age? b) do women and men have different means of coping financially and socially in their old age? c) does having engaged in wage work for longer periods of time serve as an advantage to older men in contrast to older women? d) does a woman's primary role as caregiver serve to disadvantage her in old age? e) what kinds of identities have older women and men constructed for themselves? f) do women and men prepare for ageing differently, and has this preparation been mediated by educational levels? g) does having a higher level of education make a difference to how one experiences ageing? h) how does class shape the way women and men cope in old age? and i) what does it mean to be a single older person who has either lost a spouse through death or has never been married? Because the book employs a cross-country analysis, readers gain an understanding of contemporary emergent trends not only in each of the countries but also in Southeast Asia as a whole. Wherever relevant, some chapters have also identified similarities in trends on gender and ageing between countries in the Western hemisphere and those in Southeast Asia to highlight broader patterns across the world.

Because the book employs a cross-country analysis, readers gain an understanding of contemporary emergent trends not only in each of the countries but also in Southeast Asia as a whole. Wherever relevant, some chapters have also identified similarities in trends on gender and ageing between countries in the Western hemisphere and those in Southeast Asia to highlight broader patterns across the world. The share of the elderly in Southeast Asia's population is steadily rising and it is increasingly important to understand and plan for the implications of this trend. While in some aspects the situation of older women and men in the region is similar, their life experiences of education, marriage, child raising, work, and social networks differ, and this makes for different issues as they grow older. Moreover, a much higher proportion of elderly women than men face old age without a spouse. This book makes a major contribution to understanding the issues arising from ageing trends in Southeast Asia. Individual chapters in the book deal authoritatively with almost every country in the region and are written by noted experts on the subject. The book will be an essential reading for anyone wishing to understand ageing issues in Southeast Asia, particularly from the perspective of gender. Populations and Precarity during the COVID-19 Pandemic: Southeast Asian Perspectives Kevin S.Y. Tan, Steve K.L. Chan, 2023-06-25. This volume is a collection of articles that examines how the COVID-19 pandemic affected and intersected with various Southeast Asian contexts in the broad areas of migration, education, and demographic policy. At the height of the pandemic from 2020-22, the resulting restrictions to international travel, ensuing nationwide lockdowns, and eventual economic crises formed part of what many commentators referred to as a new normal. Apart from being a global health crisis, the pandemic disrupted and transformed the experience of everyday life at all levels of society, where many of its effects are now likely irreversible. In particular, the impact of the pandemic certainly affected the most vulnerable individuals and communities throughout the region, especially in countries that are experiencing rapid ageing, such as Singapore and Thailand. Examples of the most affected include low-wage migrant workers, the disabled, and the children of impoverished families. For many who were already living in a state of precarity, the structural side effects of the pandemic were at times more deadly than the coronavirus itself, as it often negatively impacted livelihood, social, emotional ties, and overall well-being. At the same time, the new normal has further created conditions that raise the likelihood of occupational precarity, even for long-term professionals within established fields like education. In other words, few experienced the COVID-19 pandemic without encountering both tangible and intangible challenges, regardless of where one was situated. Hence, by merging the theme of precarity with that of the pandemic's undeniable and exacerbating effects, this volume hopes to establish a useful platform to reflect and learn from a range of scholarly views and to contribute to new knowledge and inform policymaking in Southeast Asian societies. This volume is a collection of thoughtful scholarship that examines the challenges that have been made more acute by the COVID-19 pandemic among and between Southeast Asian populations. The chapters here consider how the global public health crisis and its policy responses have aggravated various forms of precarity that had taken root in pockets of Southeast Asian societies. While history will be the ultimate judge of the true social and cultural consequences of COVID-19 policy responses, Populations and Precarity during the COVID-19 Pandemic: Southeast Asian Perspectives is an urgent reminder that while the worst of the pandemic may be behind us, much more remains to be done to relieve the most vulnerable among our populations of a different kind of long COVID Associate Professor Lim Lee Ching Dean of S R Nathan School of Human Development Singapore University of Social Sciences We have all witnessed the impact that the COVID 19 pandemic had on our daily lives This was especially true in areas such as Southeast Asia where local and regional economies rely on the movement of workers both skilled and unskilled The compilation of chapters in this volume provides an interesting examination of the struggles faced by many in Southeast Asia during this difficult period Readers will realize that what was merely an inconvenience for some people was life altering for others I highly recommend reading this book to increase awareness of the hidden consequences of such global catastrophes and perhaps better prepare for the next global event It is hoped that this collection will inspire actions to resolve some of the current issues faced by vulnerable populations Professor Gary La Point Professor of Practice in Supply Chain Whitman School of Management at Syracuse University A fascinating book that provides an insightful analysis of the new normal and the impacts of COVID 19 pandemic in key areas such as migration housing education disaster management and ageing in Southeast Asia The book provides invaluable perspectives and knowledge for social policymakers and students in Southeast Asia and beyond Dr Sorasich Swangsilp Director Social Policy Development SPD Programme BA International Programme Faculty of Social Administration Thammasat University Populations and Precarity during the COVID 19 Pandemic provides a timely addition to our understanding of how the pandemic disrupted key areas of everyday life in Southeast Asia a multi ethnic and complex region Thematically diverse and empirically rich this book is an interdisciplinary collaboration that deserves academic attention Professor Jongryul Choi Chair of the Department of Sociology Keimyung University South Korea Handbook on Gender in Asia Shirlena Huang, Kanchana N. Ruwanpura, 2020-07-31 The Handbook on Gender in Asia critically examines through a gender perspective five broad themes of significance to Asia the Theory and Practice of researching in Asia Gender Ageing and Health Gender and Labour Gendered Migrations and Mobilities and Gender at the Margins With each chapter providing an overview of the key intellectual developments on the issue under discussion as well as empirical examples to examine how the Asian case sheds light on these debates this collection will be an invaluable reference for scholars of gender and Asia

Histories of Health in Southeast Asia Tim Harper, Sunil S. Amrith, 2014-10-01 Health patterns in Southeast Asia have changed profoundly over the past century In that period epidemic and chronic diseases environmental transformations and international health institutions have created new connections within the region and the increased interdependence of Southeast Asia with China and India In this volume leading scholars provide a new approach to the history of health in Southeast Asia Framed by a series of synoptic pieces on the Landscapes of Health in Southeast Asia in 1914 1950 and 2014 the essays interweave local national and regional perspectives They range from studies of long term processes such as changing epidemics mortality and aging and environmental history to detailed accounts of particular episodes the global cholera epidemic and the hajj the influenza epidemic of 1918 WWII and natural disasters The writers also examine state policy on healthcare and the influence of organizations from NGOs such as the China Medical Board and the Rockefeller Foundation to grassroots organizations in Thailand Indonesia and the Philippines

Identity and Ageing Mark Cameron Tennant,2025-08-29 Examining the fundamental social and cultural changes faced by older adults this book explores ageing and the psychological issues encountered in learning to be as an older person Many of these issues are present throughout the lifespan but take on a new complexion with advancing age such as the significance of past present and future in our lives how we relate to others in our world the impact of our gendered lives the tension between autonomy and dependence consumption and production cognition and emotion and the psychological impact of biological ageing Adopting a lifespan developmental approach this text draws together the psychology of late adulthood contemporary views about identity and how we learn and develop in late adulthood Acknowledging the historical social cultural biological and technological factors that impact the psychological experience of identity as we age this book will be of interest to psychology and social work students studying lifespan development It will also appeal more broadly to a range of professions that provide services for older adults

Resilience and Familism Veronica L. Gregorio, Clarence M. Batan, Sampson Lee Blair,2023-08-10 A highly comprehensive ethnographic analysis Resilience and Familism demonstrates in a specifically Filipino context how strong familial ties can affect inner strength and outer determination

Women and Politics in Southeast Asia Theresa W Devasahayam,2018-11-01 This book aims to contribute to the discourse on women and politics in Southeast Asia The chapters covering Indonesia Myanmar the Philippines Timor Leste and Singapore analyse the asymmetrical power relationships between the sexes and how power differentials between men and women play out in the realm of politics are a reflection of the power contestations women face with men in other spheres of everyday life Each chapter seeks to ask a different question in terms of where women viz men stand in the political landscape of their countries in an effort to answer the question of Where are the women in the gender trope in Asian politics While the chapters are primarily empirical as they delve into the challenges contradictions and conflicts Southeast Asian women encounter the main assertion is that womens struggles in the realm of politics are a result of having to operate within power structures created principally by men thereby producing barriers for women to enter politics on the one hand and to increase their numbers and widen their sphere of influence on the other Recognizing that Asian politics is dominated by men the question of how women have negotiated a value system that is inherently male centred and male controlled is also discussed The implicit narrative demonstrated in this book is that the political arena should not be considered in isolation from other arenas but instead is essentially a mirror of other arenas whether the home workplace nation and or global spaces each marked by power contestations between men and women and having a spill over effect on the other as well as shaping womens experiences in the political realm

The Identity at Death of the Old and Young from the Neolithic, Bronze and Iron Ages on the Southeast Asian Mainland Kenneth William Ross,2025-07-03 This book examines Neolithic to Iron Age burials in mainland Southeast Asia focusing on age identity at death Exploring four sites it reveals diverse mortuary practices and social attitudes toward the old and young offering the first regional study of elderly individuals in archaeological contexts Ageing in Asia-Pacific Thomas R. Klassen, Masa Higo, Nopraenue S. Dhirathiti, Theresa W. Devasahayam, 2018-05-11 In the coming decades challenges and risks associated with rapid population ageing will be paramount in Asia Pacific Examining key trends dilemmas and developments with reference to specific nations the book draws conclusions and policy recommendations that apply to Asia Pacific as a whole Individual chapters focus on the impact of population ageing along with urbanization and industrialization on the lives of people in the region The book shows how leaders in Asia Pacific political community and others need to respond to changes in family and social structures disease pathology gender roles income security the care of older citizens and the provision of social and health welfare Ensuring A Square Meal: Women And Food Security In Southeast Asia

Theresa W Devasahayam, 2018-08-21 Research on women and food security in Southeast Asia has been limited The collection of chapters in Ensuring a Square Meal Women and Food Security in Southeast Asia is one of the first attempts at providing a lens into the linkages between women and food security at the household community national and transnational levels More broadly the chapters examine women s contribution in households resource distribution to produce food and the purchasing power to buy food In analysing the various facets of food security in relation to gender the analyses focus on the meanings of private and public and the extent to which the effects of the two spheres spill over into each other Given women s critical role in food production and provision the book assesses the structural forces enabling women to access productive resources and in turn ensure sustainable strategies for food security as well as it evaluates how governments might address the constraints women face in this vital role Rethinking Japanese Studies Kaori Okano, Yoshio Sugimoto, 2017-08-04

Japanese Studies has provided a fertile space for non Eurocentric analysis for a number of reasons It has been embroiled in the long running internal debate over the so called Nihonjinron revolving around the extent to which the effective interpretation of Japanese society and culture requires non Western Japan specific emic concepts and theories This book takes this question further and explores how we can understand Japanese society and culture by combining Euro American concepts and theories with those that originate in Japan Because Japan is the only liberal democracy to have achieved a high level of capitalism outside the Western cultural framework Japanese Studies has long provided a forum for deliberations about the extent to which the Western conception of modernity is universally applicable Furthermore because of Japan s military economic and cultural dominance in Asia at different points in the last century Japanese Studies has had to deal with the issues of Japanocentrism as well as Eurocentrism a duality requiring complex and nuanced analysis This book identifies variations amongst Japanese Studies academic communities in the Asia Pacific and examines the extent to which relatively autonomous scholarship intellectual approach or theories exist in the region It also evaluates how studies on Japan in the region contribute to global Japanese Studies and explores their potential for formulating concrete strategies to unsettle

Eurocentric dominance of the discipline      History, Culture, and Region in Southeast Asian Perspectives O. W. Wolters, 2018-08-06 A new edition of this classic study of mandala Southeast Asia The revised book includes a substantial retrospective postscript examining contemporary scholarship that has contributed to the understanding of Southeast Asian history since 1982      (Re)presenting Brunei Darussalam Lian Kwen Fee, Paul J. Carnegie, Noor Hasharina Hassan, 2023-04-06 This thoughtful and wide ranging open access volume explores the forces and issues shaping and defining contemporary identities and everyday life in Brunei Darussalam It is a subject that until now has received comparatively limited attention from mainstream social scientists working on Southeast Asian societies The volume helps remedy that deficit by detailing the ways in which religion gender place ethnicity nation state formation migration and economic activity work their way into and reflect in the lives of ordinary Bruneians In a first of its kind all the lead authors of the chapter contributions are local Bruneian scholars and the editors skilfully bring the study of Brunei into the fold of the sociology of everyday life from multiple disciplinary directions By engaging local scholars to document everyday concerns that matter to them the volume presents a collage of distinct but interrelated case studies that have been previously undocumented or relatively underappreciated These interior portrayals render new angles of vision scale and nuance to our understandings of Brunei often overlooked by mainstream inquiry Each in its own way speaks to how structures and institutions express themselves through complex processes to influence the lives of inhabitants Academic scholars university students and others interested in the study of contemporary Brunei Darussalam will find this volume an invaluable resource for unravelling its diversity and textures At the same time it hopefully stimulates critical reflection on positionality hierarchies of knowledge production cultural diversity and the ways in which we approach the social science study of Brunei I wish to commend the editors for bringing this volume to fruition It is an important book in the context of Southeast Asian sociology and even more important for the development of our social geographical cultural and historical knowledge of Brunei Victor T King University of Leeds      Transnational Labour Migration, Remittances and the Changing Family in Asia L. Hoang, B. Yeoh, 2015-05-13 The contributors investigate the inter relationships between migrant remittances and the family in Asia They argue that in the context of Asian transnational labour migration where remittances tend to become a primary currency of care the making or breaking of the family unit is mainly contingent on how individuals handle remittance processes      Women Migrant Workers Zahra Meghani, 2015-10-05 This volume makes the case for the fair treatment of female migrant workers from the global South who are employed in wealthy liberal democracies as care workers domestic workers home health workers and farm workers An international panel of contributors provide analyses of the ethical political and legal harms suffered by female migrant workers based on empirical data and case studies along with original and sophisticated analyses of the complex of systemic structural factors responsible for the harms experienced by women migrant workers The book also proposes realistic and original solutions to the problem of the unjust treatment of women migrant workers such as social security systems that are transnational and tailored to meet the particular needs of different groups of international migrant workers

Borneo Studies in History, Society and Culture Victor T. King, Zawawi Ibrahim, Noor Hasharina Hassan, 2016-08-12 This edited book is the first major review of what has been achieved in Borneo Studies to date Chapters in this book situate research on Borneo within the general disciplinary fields of the social sciences with the weight of attention devoted to anthropological research and related fields such as development studies gender studies environmental studies social policy studies and cultural studies Some of the chapters in this book are extended versions of presentations at the Borneo Research Council's international conference hosted by Universiti Brunei Darussalam in June 2012 and a Borneo Studies workshop organised in Brunei in 2012 The volume examines some of the major debates and controversies in Borneo Studies including those which have served to connect post war research on Borneo to wider scholarship It also assesses some of the more recent contributions and interests of locally based researchers in universities and other institutions in Borneo itself The major strength of the book is the inclusion of a substantial amount of research undertaken by scholars working and teaching within the Southeast Asian region In particular there is an examination of research materials published in the vernacular notably the outpouring of work published in Indonesian by the Institut Dayakologi in Pontianak In doing so the book also addresses the urgent matters which have not received the attention they deserve specifically subjects themes and issues that have already been covered but require further contemplation elaboration and research and the scope for disciplinary and multidisciplinary collaboration in Borneo Studies The book is a valuable resource and reference work for students and researchers interested in social science scholarship on Borneo and for those with wider interests in Indonesia and Malaysia and in the Southeast Asian region

International Handbook on Gender and Demographic Processes Nancy E. Riley, Jan Brunson, 2018-05-02 This handbook presents a comprehensive and up to date overview of gender in demography addressing the many different influences of gender that arise from or influence demographic processes It collects in one volume the key issues and perspectives in this area whereby demography is broadly defined The purpose in casting a wide net is to cover the range of work being done within demography but at the same time to open up our perspectives to neighboring fields to encourage better conversations around these issues The chapters in this handbook carefully document definition and measurement issues and take up parts of the demographic picture and focus on how gender plays a role in outcomes In other cases gender often plays a cross cutting role in social processes rather than having a single or easily distinguishable role it often combines with other social institutions and even other statuses and inequalities to affect outcomes Thus a key factor in this volume is how gender interacts with race ethnicity class nationality and sexuality in any demographic setting While each section contains chapters that are broad overviews of the current state of knowledge and behavior the handbook also includes chapters that focus on specific cultures or events in order to examine how gender operates in a particular circumstance

The Routledge Handbook of Bioarchaeology in Southeast Asia and the Pacific Islands Marc Oxenham, Hallie Buckley, 2015-11-19 In recent years the bioarchaeology of Southeast Asia and the Pacific islands has seen enormous progress This new and exciting research is synthesised contextualised and expanded upon in The Routledge Handbook of Bioarchaeology in Southeast Asia and the Pacific Islands The volume is divided into two broad sections one dealing with mainland and island Southeast Asia and a second section dealing with the Pacific islands A multi scalar approach is employed to the bio social dimensions of Southeast Asia and the Pacific islands with contributions alternating between region and or site specific scales of operation to the individual or personal scale The more personal level of osteobiographies enriches the understanding of the lived experience in past communities Including a number of contributions from sub disciplinary approaches tangential to bioarchaeology the book provides a broad theoretical and methodological approach Providing new information on the globally relevant topics of farming population mobility subsistence and health no other volume provides such a range of coverage on these important themes

Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Gender And Ageing Southeast Asian Perspectives books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Gender And Ageing Southeast Asian Perspectives books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Gender And Ageing Southeast Asian Perspectives books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips. With platforms like Project Gutenberg, Open Library, and various digital libraries offered by educational institutions, we have access to an ever-expanding collection of books and manuals. Whether for educational, professional, or personal purposes, these digital resources serve as valuable tools for continuous learning and self-improvement.
