Renowned historical sociologist Charles Tilly wrote many years ago that banditry piracy gangland rivalry policing and war making all belong on the same continuum This volume pursues the idea by revealing how lawbreakers and lawmakers have related to one another on the shadowy terrains of power over wide stretches of time and space Illicit activities and forces have been more important in state building and state maintenance than conventional histories have acknowledged Covering vast chronological and global terrain this book traces the contested and often overlapping boundaries between these practices in such very different polities as the pre modern city states of Europe the modern nation states of France and Japan the imperial power of Britain in India and North America Africa s and Southeast Asia s postcolonial states and the emerging postmodern regional entity of the Mediterranean Sea Indeed the contemporary explosion of transnational crime raises the question of whether or not the relationship of illicit to licit practices may be mutating once more leading to new political forms beyond the nation state G8 against Transnational Organized Crime Dr Amandine Scherrer,2013-03-28 The fight against money laundering drug trafficking illegal immigration cyber crime and the promotion of the enhancement of judicial and police cooperation in criminal matters have been at the core of the G8 s actions in this field since the 1990s This book sheds light on the nature structure and modus operandi of the G8 s specific expertise on transnational organized crime from a sociological approach in order to understand the elaboration production and diffusion of international norms and standards It provides a detailed analysis of an under researched aspect of international politics the intensification of expert level exchanges on the international stage over the enhanced cooperation against transnational organized crime that has led to an impressive elaboration of best practices and soft law recommendations Very few studies have focused on the experts who determine these who they are what their socio professional background is and the nature and impact of their collective work in the global fight against organized crime Changes in Society, Crime and Criminal Justice in Europe C. J. C. F. Fijnaut,Johan Goethals,1995 In 1994 the School of Criminology a part of the Department of Criminal Law Criminal

Procedure and Criminology in the Faculty of Law of the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven celebrated the 25th anniversary of its study programme. To give added lustre to this landmark in its history the Institute accepted the invitation from the International Society of Criminology to organise the 49th International Course of Criminology. The title of the course was Changes in Society Crime and Criminal Justice in Europe. A challenge for criminological education and research. This course explored two themes both of which are likely to be the focus of debate in criminal policy in the near future: crime and insecurity in the city and international organised and corporate crime. The presentation and discussion of both themes followed two main approaches. Lectures and seminars focused on the analysis of the nature, the quantity and the development of the phenomena and meetings were focused on the policy needed to gain control of these phenomena. Moreover, attention was paid to technical and ethical problems which show up at the moment that empirical research is carried out. This publication brings together the main part of the introductory lectures. Part one relates to the theme of crime and insecurity in the city, the second part contains the lectures on international organised and corporate crime. Together both parts present a good picture of what was explained and commented on during the Course, especially in relation to important European developments concerning crime, criminal justice and criminal policy. This book will become an important source of inspiration for both criminological education and research.

Interdisciplinary Insights on Fraud António Maia, José António Moreira, Carlos Pimenta, 2014-04-11. This book fills an essential gap in the existing literature by analyzing fraud and the weakening of ethical relations as parts of an overall global process in an interdisciplinary, international and multidimensional perspective. It provides an in-depth analysis of fraud in its multiple facets, including financial fraud, most notably related to banking, fiscal, tax fraud, tax compliance and the role of government in the process, and academic fraud, exams misconduct and plagiarism. It also presents a set of methods and empirical evidence on the prevention and combating of fraud in distinct settings such as money laundering, fraudulent investments, schemes and public procurement mismanagement and economies including Brazil, Canada, France and Portugal.

The Limits of Transnationalism Nancy L. Green, 2019-05-21. Transnationalism means many things to many people, from crossing physical borders to crossing intellectual ones. The Limits of Transnationalism reassesses the overly optimistic narratives often associated with this malleable term, revealing both the metaphorical and very real obstacles for transnational mobility. Nancy L. Green begins her wide-ranging examination with the story of Frank Gueydan, an early twentieth-century American convicted of manufacturing fake wine in France who complained bitterly that he was neither able to get a fair trial there nor to enlist the help of US officials. Gueydan's predicament opens the door for a series of inquiries into the past twenty-five years of transnational scholarship, raising questions about the weaknesses of global networks and the slippery nature of citizenship ties for those who try to live transnational lives. The Limits of Transnationalism serves as a cogent reminder of this topic's complexity, calling for greater attention to be paid to the many bumps in the road.
