with Disabilities Elinor Gollay, 1977 Gender and Higher Education Barbara J. Bank, 2011-03 Encyclopedic review about gender and its impact on American higher education across historical and cultural contexts The contributors describe the ways in which gender is embedded in the educational practices curriculum institutional structures and governance of colleges and universities Topics included are institutional diversity academic majors and programs extracurricular organizations such as sororities fraternities and women's centers affirmative action and other higher educational policies and theories that have been used to analyze and explain the ways in which gender in academe is constructed All the Essential Half-Truths about Higher Education George Dennis O'Brien, 2007-12-01 In this refreshing and original exploration George Dennis O'Brien looks at higher education in America O'Brien argues that to debate intelligently the future of education we must stop focusing on its ideals and look instead at its institutions He does this by addressing nine half truths such as whether low cost public education benefits the least advantaged in society and goes on to examine how accurately they reflect the true state of higher education The result is a thought provoking discussion of the present challenges and future prospects of American higher education O'Brien's historical overview of the transition from 19th century denominational colleges to 20th century research driven and largely secular ones is provocative Cleverly written and well focused the book addresses the financial pressures facing higher education and asks vital questions about cutbacks and curricula Publishers Weekly Lively engaging and richly suggestive Francis Oakley Commonwealth O'Brien employs calm powerful reason without sensationalism His perspective is illuminating All the Essential Half Truths About Higher Education is one of the wisest and most useful treatments of American higher education John Attarian Detroit News Spectral Hieroglyphics: The One True Body, At the Vertigo Borders, On Higher Phlogiston Current Will Alexander, 2017-07-19 Black White Paperback Edition Spectral Hieroglyphics is a timeless organic constellation of poems on the unstoppable power of radical poetic vision In this extraordinary troika of poems Will Alexander not only shows the strong determination of three free minds to achieve a fully poetic way of life he also demonstrates the actuality of their revolutionary visions Alexander portrays these poets in the grandeur of their passionate ideas Will Alexander revives these visions in a new myth for the future Laurens Vancrivel Foreword Profusely illustrated by Rik Lina Searching for Higher Education Leadership Jean A. Dowdall, 2009-11-16

Dowdall's book offers sample documents for candidates as well as for the search committees and includes a substantive bibliography From her vantage point outside the institution Dowdall is able to provide a unique point of view and insightful comments on the complex and often daunting process of the academic executive search Key selling points include The eagerness for career advice that exists both from candidates Part I of the book and search committees Part II of the book a visible author who writes a monthly column in the Chronicle of Higher Education and lectures often at leadership seminars and information on this subject which covers all institutional types including liberal arts colleges comprehensive institutions research universities and community colleges Printing and Publishing, 1971 Equity and Excellence in American Higher Education William G. Bowen, Martin A. Kurzweil, Eugene M. Tobin, Susanne C. Pichler, 200? Thomas Jefferson once stated that the foremost goal of American education must be to nurture the natural aristocracy of talent and virtue Although in many ways American higher education has fulfilled Jefferson's vision by achieving a widespread level of excellence it has not achieved the objective of equity implicit in Jefferson's statement In Equity and Excellence in American Higher Education William G Bowen Martin A Kurzweil and Eugene M Tobin explore the cause for this divide Employing historical research examination of the most recent social science and public policy scholarship international comparisons and detailed empirical analysis of rich new data the authors study the intersection between excellence and equity objectives Beginning with a time line tracing efforts to achieve equity and excellence in higher education from the American Revolution to the early Cold War years this narrative reveals the halting episodic progress in broadening access across the dividing lines of gender race religion ethnicity and socioeconomic status The authors argue that despite our rhetoric of inclusiveness a significant number of youth from poor families do not share equal access to America's elite colleges and universities While America has achieved the highest level of educational attainment of any country it runs the risk of losing this position unless it can markedly improve the precollegiate preparation of students from racial minorities and lower income families After identifying the equity problem at the national level and studying nineteen selective colleges and universities the authors propose a set of potential actions to be taken at federal state local and institutional levels With recommendations ranging from reform of the admissions process to restructuring of federal financial aid and state support of public universities to addressing the various precollegiate obstacles that disadvantaged students face at home and in school the authors urge all selective colleges and universities to continue race sensitive admissions policies while urging the most selective and privileged institutions to enroll more well qualified students from families with low socioeconomic status At the Highest Levels Michael Beschloss, Strobe Talbott, 2016-08-16 The landmark story of Bush Gorbachev diplomacy No one has ever given as complete and compelling an account of the higher reaches of foreign policy Time December 1989 The Berlin Wall had fallen Millions across the Eastern

Bloc were enjoying new freedoms And the USSR was falling apart But the peaceful end of the Cold War was far from assured requiring the leaders of rival superpowers to look beyond the animosities of the past and embrace an uncertain future At the Highest Levels is the fascinating story of that unlikely partnership a real time expos of the negotiations between US President George H W Bush and Soviet Premier Mikhail Gorbachev Granted extraordinary access to private conversations and closed door meetings at the Kremlin White House Pentagon CIA and KGB Michael Beschloss and Strobe Talbott reveal the high stakes international diplomacy that ended the nuclear arms race and decades of proxy wars The result is an accurate first draft of the Cold War s last days wrote David Remnick in the New Yorker filled with gaudy historical riches Each an acclaimed author in his own right Beschloss and Talbott together deliver journalism at its best an intimate and utterly absorbing record of this critical meeting of minds The New York Times

Transnational and Transcultural Positionality in Globalised Higher Education Catherine Montgomery, 2017-10-02 Transnational higher education TNHE where students study on a foreign degree programme whilst remaining in their home country has seen exponential development over the last decade In addition to the increase in students engaged in TNHE across the globe the involvement of university teachers in TNHE has also risen in response to the demand for this form of international education Although research into transnational education has doubled since 2006 there is a paucity of research focusing on transnational teacher education especially outside of North America The global nature and scope of the expansion of TNHE remains underexplored and the ways in which different countries are realising TNHE provision is little understood This book explores the experiences and perceptions of teachers in transnational higher education interrogating the ways in which university teachers negotiate cultural linguistic and disciplinary contexts in order to provide transformative learning experiences for their students This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Education for Teaching

Mass Intellectuality and Democratic Leadership in Higher Education Joss Winn, Richard Hall, 2017-08-24 Higher education in the UK is in crisis The idea of the public university is under assault and both the future of the sector and its relationship to society are being gambled Higher education is increasingly unaffordable its historic institutions are becoming untenable and their purpose is resolutely instrumental What and who have led us to this crisis What are the alternatives To whom do we look for leadership in revealing those alternatives This book critically analyses intellectual leadership in the university exploring ongoing efforts from around the world to create alternative models for organizing higher education and the production of knowledge Its authors offer their experience and views from inside and beyond the structures of mainstream higher education in order to reflect on efforts to create alternatives In the process the volume asks is it possible to reimagine the university democratically and cooperatively If so what are the implications for leadership not just within the university but also in terms of higher education s relationship to society The authors argue that mass higher education is at the point where it no longer reflects the needs capacities and longterm interests of global society An alternative role and purpose is required based upon mass intellectuality or the real possibility of democracy in learning and the production of knowledge Printing and Publishing United States. Business and Defense Services Administration. Printing and Publishing Industries Division, 1968
