

Identifying Theme

A theme is the central message or idea in a literary work. A theme is not the same as a topic. The theme is a statement the author is making about the topic through the literary work. For example:

Topic: love

Theme: Love conquers all.

Topic: hope

Theme: Victory is still possible as long as there is hope.

Writers have four ways to express theme in a story:

- What the characters think and say
- How the characters feel about events in the story
- What the characters learn by the end of the story
- The events of the story and the actions characters take

DIRECTIONS: Read the assigned text. Identify the theme. Then provide three citations from the text to support your answer.

The Teaching Gap James W. Stigler, James Hiebert, 2007-11-01 Comparing math teaching practices in Japan and Germany with those in the United States two leading researchers offer a surprising new view of teaching and a bold action plan for improving education inside the American classroom For years our schools and children have lagged behind international standards in reading arithmetic and most other areas of academic achievement It is no secret that American schools are in dire need of improvement and that education has become our nation's number one priority But even though almost every state in the country is working to develop higher standards for what students should be learning along with the means for assessing their progress the quick fix solutions implemented so far haven't had a noticeable impact The problem as James Stigler and James Hiebert explain is that most efforts to improve education fail because they simply don't have any impact on the quality of teaching inside classrooms Teaching they argue is cultural American teachers aren't incompetent but the methods they use are severely limited and American teaching has no system in place for getting better It is teaching not teachers that must be changed In The Teaching Gap the authors draw on the conclusions of the Third International Mathematics and Science Study TIMSS an innovative new study of teaching in several cultures to refocus educational reform efforts Using videotaped lessons from dozens of randomly selected eighth grade classrooms in the United States Japan and Germany the authors reveal the rich yet unfulfilled promise of American teaching and document exactly how other countries have consistently stayed ahead of us in the rate their children learn Our schools can be restructured as places where teachers can engage in career long learning and classrooms can become laboratories for developing new teaching centered ideas If provided the time they need during the school day for collaborative lesson study and plan building teachers will change the way our students learn James Stigler and James Hiebert have given us nothing less than a best practices for teachers one that offers proof that how teachers teach is far more important than increased spending state of the art facilities mandatory homework or special education and a plan for change that educators teachers and parents can implement together
