First Look At Communication Theory 8th Edition:

A First Look at Communication Theory Emory A. Griffin, 2012 A First Look at Communication Theory Emory A. Griffin, Andrew Ledbetter, Glenn Grayson Sparks, 2019 A Balanced Approach to Theory Selection We've written A First Look for students who have no background in communication theory. It's designed for undergraduates enrolled in an entry-level course regardless of the student's classification. The trend in the field is to offer students a broad introduction to theory relatively early in their program. But if a department chooses to offer its first theory course on the junior or senior level, the course will still be the student's first comprehensive look at theory, so the book will meet them where they are.

A First Look at Communication Theory Emory A. Griffin, 2006 Praised for its clear prose and straightforward presentation, A First Look at Communication Theory uses a one-theory-per-chapter approach and makes extensive use of examples to help make the theory come alive for students.

Communication Theory Karsten Pedersen, 2025-03-28 Communication Theory provides a theoretically informed exploration of diverse communication theories. It serves as a meta-discussion on the description and characterization of communication from various theoretical standpoints. The book also examines how different theoretical perspectives approach communication and how these approaches can be both conflicting and complementary. The book illustrates the concept of human communication by demonstrating that despite different theoretical lenses, all human communication shares fundamental characteristics. This underscores the importance of employing multiple perspectives to emphasize various aspects of communication in order to describe different facets of the communication process.

Critical Autoethnography Robin M. Boylorn, Mark P. Orbe, 2020-11-26 Critical Autoethnography: Intersecting Cultural Identities in Everyday Life (Second Edition) examines the development of the field of critical autoethnography through the lens of social identity. Contributors situate interpersonal and intercultural experiences of gender, race, ethnicity, ability, citizenship, sexuality, and spirituality within larger systems of power, oppression, and privilege. Approachable and accessible narratives highlight intersectional experiences of marginalization and interrogate social injustices. The book is divided into three sections: Complexities of Identity, Performance Relationships in Diverse Contexts, and Pathways to Culturally Authentic Selves. Each thematic section includes provocative stories that critically engage personal and cultural narratives through a lens of difference. The chapters in the book highlight both unique and ubiquitous extraordinary and common experiences in the interior lives of people who are Othered because of at least two overlapping identities. The contributors offer first-person accounts to suggest critical responses and alternatives to injustice. The book also includes sectional summaries and discussion questions to facilitate dialogue and self-reflection. It is an excellent resource for undergraduate students, graduate students, educators, and scholars who are interested in autoethnography, interpersonal and intercultural communication, qualitative studies, personal narrative, cultural studies, and performance studies.

Multidisciplinarity Luisa Santos, 2018-06-27 In Manifesto for an Independent Revolutionary Art Andr Breton and Diego Rivera under the effects of German fascism and Russian Stalinism in society argued that art can only impact society and be revolutionary if it becomes independent of any social constructs Almost six decades later in the rise of what became known as relational aesthetics the field of multidisciplinarity is expanding and many artistic projects for social change claim to be multidisciplinarity However such projects show that we are still far from a broad discourse of multidisciplinarity Multidisciplinarity takes a step towards a down to earth discussion of the relation between disciplinary discourses and grand narratives in three different projects focusing mainly on its artistic cultural and management aspects Indeed drawing from the eclectic construction of these three multidisciplinary projects this volume serves to bridge the gap between the theoretical debates of disciplinary discourses and the harshness of everyday life in communities where projects for social change are being implemented Presenting a panoptical view that places academic research side by side with daily life Multidisciplinarity unveils the bigger picture of both projects and interdisciplinary discourses This insightful volume will appeal to students and researchers interested in fields such as Project Management Multidisciplinarity Culture Studies and Organisational Studies
