programs don't require dedicating an entire area of the library to makerspace activities or sophisticated technologies such as 3D printers. Make It Here: Inciting Creativity and Innovation in Your Library provides a complete step-by-step guide for starting a makerspace program at your library and follows through with instructions for operation and building on your success. This book takes you step by step through starting your maker program from finding the right makerspace mix, making a plan and working with staff to establishing funding and support, launching your makerspace and evaluating and refining your programs. The authors provide guidance based on their personal experiences in creating and developing maker programs in their libraries as well as feedback and lessons learned from library makers across the country. You'll see how easy it can be to bring their ideas to life in ways that will empower your community and be encouraged to be bold and think outside of the box when imagining the possibilities.

We thought we were done being heroes. When I first started my moving company, Vets on the Go, after getting out of the Marines, I wanted to help my brother Cash and other veterans adjust to civilian life. But then someone filmed Cash taking down a robber, and no sooner could you say viral video than Vets on the Go became the go to moving company Everyone wants to hear our story But now I can t keep up with the deluge of interest Enter PR expert Naomi Starr She s trying to revive her career and I need her help Unfortunately she s got a never mix business with pleasure philosophy that is putting a serious crimp in the chemistry between us I need to unseal her secrets and expose her to all the hot and dirty things she s been missing out on with me Maybe then she ll let go of her misgivings and trust that I m the whole package
