MORE THAN A MEDAL

By Alice Amos

Medals for the 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games in Paris will feature scrap metal from the Tower taken during refurbishments and repairs.

The metal leftovers (from the Eiffel Tower) had been stored for years in a warehouse in a secret location but are now finally getting a new purpose. Thierry Reboul, creative director of Paris 2024, said: "It's the opportunity for the athletes to bring back a piece of Paris with them. The absolute symbol of Paris and France is the Eiffel Tower."

A French luxury jewellery firm based in Paris designed the medals and 5,084 of them will be produced by France's mint, the Monnaie de Paris. The scrap metal will make up the centre pieces of the gold, silver and bronze medals, with hexagon-shaped pieces forged out of the scrap iron. Hexagons are said to represent France, with the country sometimes referred to as "L'Hexagone" because of its shape.

Six small clasps that hold the iron pieces in the medals are a nod at the 2.5 million rivets that

Focus on Writing Composition Ray Barker, Louis Fidge, 1999 The supporting Teacher Resource Books offer practical advice on organising and using the course and provide a comprehensive range of further teaching ideas that cover all links with the NLS Workbook for News Reporting and Writing Brian S. Brooks, Missouri Group, George Kennedy, Daryl R. Moen, Don Ranly, 2010-11-10 It is a tumultuous time in journalism as media forms evolve and new models emerge There are few clear answers but no one is more prepared than The Missouri Group to tackle these issues head on and to teach students the core enduring journalism skills they need to succeed whether they write for the local paper a professional blog cable news or even work in public relations The Wedding Report Hans-Jürg Suter, 1993-09-01 Traditional text types or genres are complex linguistic sociocultural and cognitive phenomena that can only be analysed in flexible interdisciplinary frameworks fusing structural and process oriented approaches and combining quantitative description with qualitative interpretation and evaluation The theoretical and methodological implications of the prototypical text type concept which is developed in this book are explored in an exhaustive case study of a representative ie prototypical genre the wedding report a conventional type of news report published in local English newspapers The distinctive contextual and textual features situational context text production processes function thematic structure and form on the macro and microlevel are analysed synchronically and diachronically The linguistic findings are integrated into a comprehensive view of the interplay between the genre as a linguistic frame and its sociocultural context The study puts special emphasis on addressing the methodological problems arising from the inherent fuzziness of traditional text types and can thus serve as a detailed working model of genre analysis designed to be adapted to the specific requirements of similar studies News in a Digital Age Kavanagh, Marcellino, Jonathan S. Blake, Smith, Davenport, Tebeka, 2019-05-14 This report presents a quantitative assessment of how the presentation of news has changed over the past 30 years and how it varies across platforms Over time and as society moved from old to new media news content has generally shifted from more objective event and context based reporting to reporting that is more subjective relies more heavily on argumentation and advocacy and includes more emotional appeals Exploring the Lexis Grammar Interface Ute Römer, Rainer Schulze, 2009-03-11 This volume showcases studies that recognize and provide evidence for the inseparability of lexis and grammar The contributors explore in what ways these two areas often treated separately in linguistic theory and description form an organic whole The papers in Section I Setting the Scene introduce some of the key methodological approaches and theoretical positions at the lexis grammar interface while Section II Considering the Particulars contains papers that report on case studies and show concrete applications of the central methods and theories Exploring the Lexis Grammar Interface is a stimulating collection of papers for anyone who wishes to learn more about and get fresh state of the art perspectives on language patterning International News in the Digital Age Judith Clarke, Michael Bromley, 2012-01-25 The new research presented in this volume suggests that general perceptions cultural psychological geographical allied to the customs and values of journalism and underpinned by the uses of technology significantly shape international news This gives rise to a blend of the old and the new traditions of cultural centredness and innovative practices anchorages of place and the rootlessness of globalization Technology per se has not swept all before it On the other hand its uses have altered the means and methods of international news sourcing construction and dissemination Consequently the uptake of technology has contributed to fundamental changes in style and form and has greatly facilitated cross cultural exchanges The category international news is now more of a hybrid as recognized by the BBC and others The chapters in this book demonstrate that this hybridity is unevenly distributed across geo political domains and often across time Nevertheless as the contributors to this volume show the concept of international news relies on tightly interwoven elements of orthodox journalism social media civic expression and public assembly
