

HOSA Medical Math
Practice Test for NLC

Abstract: This is an abstract of a 2008 FICD or FICPA member's letter sent to National Society of Environmental Justice during a 2008 National meeting on the subject.

Efficient ways that companies give benefits could reduce net gross compensation, and their shareholders would like that. Some research indicates that offering financial health insurance reduces financial stressors, improves productivity and health, and increases job satisfaction. It also is associated with lower absenteeism, turnover and health care costs. Companies that offer health insurance to employees are more likely to attract and retain top talent, and they also are more likely to be profitable. Companies that do not offer health insurance are more likely to be unprofitable.
