 This is the first detailed account of Louisiana's unprecedented turn to mass incarceration from 1970 to 2020
 Through extensive research Lydia Pelot Hobbs illuminates how policy makers enlarged Louisiana's carceral infrastructures with new prisons and jail expansions alongside the bulking up of police and prosecutorial power
 At the same time these infrastructures were the products of multiscalar crises the swings of global oil capitalism liberal federal court and policy interventions the rise of neoliberal governance and law and order austerity and racist and patriarchal moral panics surrounding crime
 However these crises have also created fertile space for anticarceral social movements From incarcerated people filing conditions of confinement lawsuits and Angola activists challenging life without parole to grassroots organizers struggling to shrink the New Orleans jail following Hurricane Katrina and LGBTQ youth of color organizing against police sexual violence grassroots movements stretch us toward new geographies of freedom in the lineage of abolition democracy Understanding Louisiana's carceral crisis extends our understanding of the interplay between the crises of mass criminalization and racial capitalism while highlighting the conditions of possibility for dismantling carceral power in all its forms
