reason and the divine spirit and to accept whatever nature sends you To live in this way is not to fear death but to hold it in contempt Death is only a thing of terror for those unable to live in the present Pass on your way then with a smiling face under the smile of him who bids you go Do not then consider life a thing of any value For look at the immensity of time behind thee and to the time which is before thee another boundless space In this infinity then what is the difference between him who lives three days and him who lives three generations TA cucumber is bitter Throw it away There are briars in the road Turn aside from them This is enough Do not add And why were such things made in the world If thou art pained by any external thing it is not this that disturbs thee but thy own judgment about it And it is in thy power to wipe out this judgment now What a reader says about Marcus Aurelius Meditations We find several recurring themes in The Meditations develop self discipline to gain control over judgments and desires overcoming a fear of death value an ability to retreat into a rich interior mental life one s inner citadel recognize the world as a manifestation of the divine live according to reason avoid luxury and opulence But generalizations will not approach the richness and wisdom nuggets a reader will find in Marcus s actual words Glenn Russel The Meditations by Marcus Aurelius Marcus Aurelius,2019-01-21 Marcus Aurelius was the Emperor of Rome from 161 to 180 CE and is considered the last of the Five Good Emperors He was a Stoic Philosopher and his work The Meditations literally things to one s self is a set of private notes and thoughts It is considered to be one of the greatest extant works of stoic philosophy Each translation of The Meditations by Marcus Aurelius takes some liberties Words are added and some removed in order to better reach meaning and understanding This latest translation and new modern edition is meant to restore some of these missing elements and provide a clear and accurate presentation of this great classic in English
