The year 2020 began with many significant billing and coding updates for family physicians. A study found that Family physicians could not bill for all the services provided in the majority of their visits because CPT codes for medical billing did not cover the services, a study found.

Family practice medical billing services ensure that providers do not miss out on opportunities to maximize reimbursements. The correct CPT coding ensures a smooth medical billing process. The CPT coding system provides details about medical, surgical, and diagnostic services performed by healthcare professionals or physicians.

The coding system is developed and maintained by the American Medical Association (AMA), which offers healthcare providers “a uniform process for coding medical services that streamlines reporting and increases accuracy and efficiency.”
