The Routledge Companion to Non-Market Strategy Thomas C. Lawton, Tazeeb S. Rajwani, 2015-04-24 It is commonplace for today s transnational enterprises to undertake political risk analysis when choosing foreign markets and creating entry strategies Despite this non market elements of corporate strategy are less well researched than the traditional market based perspectives Providing comprehensive and leading edge overviews of current scholarship this Companion surveys the current state of the field and provides a basis for improving our understanding of the non market environment encouraging new insights to improve strategies for enhancing a firm s performance and legitimacy With a foreword by David Baron the international team of contributors includes Jean Philippe Bonardi Bennet Zelner and Jonathan Doh who combine to create a book that is essential reading for students and researchers in business management and politics including those interested in business regulation environmental policy political risk and corporate social responsibility

The Sea, Volume

12: Biological-Physical Interactions in the Sea James J. McCarthy, Allan R. Robinson, Brian J. Rothschild, 2005

Academy of Management Perspectives, 2009 Ocean Biogeochemical Dynamics Jorge L. Sarmiento, 2013-07-17

Ocean Biogeochemical Dynamics provides a broad theoretical framework upon which graduate students and upper level undergraduates can formulate an understanding of the processes that control the mean concentration and distribution of biologically utilized elements and compounds in the ocean. Though it is written as a textbook, it will also be of interest to more advanced scientists as a wide ranging synthesis of our present understanding of ocean biogeochemical processes. The first two chapters of the book provide an introductory overview of biogeochemical and physical oceanography. The next four chapters concentrate on processes at the air-sea interface: the production of organic matter in the upper ocean, the remineralization of organic matter in the water column, and the processing of organic matter in the sediments. The focus of these chapters is on analyzing the cycles of organic carbon, oxygen, and nutrients. The next three chapters round out the authors' coverage of ocean biogeochemical cycles with discussions of silica, dissolved inorganic carbon, and alkalinity, and CaCO_3 . The final chapter discusses applications of ocean biogeochemistry to our understanding of the role of the ocean carbon cycle in interannual to decadal variability, paleoclimatology, and the anthropogenic carbon budget. The problem sets included at the end of each chapter encourage students to ask critical questions in this exciting new field. While much of the approach is mathematical, the math is at a level that should be accessible to students with a year or two of college level mathematics and/or physics.

Underglobalization Joshua Neves, 2020-03-06. Despite China's recent emergence as a major global economic and geopolitical power, its association with counterfeit goods and intellectual property piracy has led many in the West to dismiss its urbanization and globalization as suspect or inauthentic. In Underglobalization, Joshua Neves examines the cultural politics of the fake and how frictions between legality and legitimacy propel dominant models of economic development and political life in contemporary China. Focusing on a wide range of media technologies and practices in Beijing, Neves shows how piracy and fakes are manifestations of what he calls underglobalization: the ways social actors undermine and refuse to implement the specific procedures and protocols required by globalization at different scales. By tracking the rise of fake politics and transformations in political society in China and globally, Neves demonstrates that they are alternate outcomes of globalizing processes rather than anathema to them.

Osland, B. Sebastian Reiche, Mark E. Mendenhall, Martha L. Maznevski, 2023-03-06 Advances in Global Leadership collects insights from leading scholars and practitioners and fresh ideas from promising newcomers to the field In addition to traditional research Volume 15 focuses on power and global leadership an under researched topic in the field of global leadership New Perspectives on Willingness to Communicate in a Second Language Nourollah Zarrinabadi, Mirosław Pawlak, 2021-05-03 This edited collection provides a state of the art overview of research on willingness to communicate WTC in a second and foreign language In particular it includes innovative studies seeking to demonstrate the ways in which WTC can be examined within the framework of complex dynamic systems how the construct is related to self assessment reticence and extroversion and what it signifies in the case of immigrants Another group of papers is related to the role of technology in fostering WTC in different contexts The volume also comprises papers that touch on methodological issues in the study of WTC such as experience case sampling the network approach or the integration of the macro and micro perspective The book will be of value to researchers interested in the study of WTC but will also provide inspiration for students teachers and materials writers Coal and Coalbed Gas Romeo M.

Flores, 2013-10-19 Bridging the gap in expertise between coal and coalbed gas subfields in which opportunities for cross training have been nonexistent Coal and Coalbed Gas sets the standard for publishing in these areas This book treats coal and coalbed gas as mutually inclusive commodities in terms of their interrelated origin accumulation composition distribution generation and development providing a balanced understanding of this energy mix Currently considered a non renewable energy resource coalbed gas or coalbed methane is a form of natural gas extracted from coal beds In recent years countries have begun to seek and exploit coal for its clean gas energy in an effort to alleviate environmental issues that come with coal use making a book on this topic particularly timely This volume takes into account processes of coalification gasification and storage and reservoir characterization and evaluation and looks at water management and environmental impacts as well Covers environmental issues in the development of coalbed gas Includes case studies field guides and data examples and analytical procedures from previous studies and investigations Accessible by a large multidisciplinary market by one of the world's foremost experts on the topic The Return of Bipolarity in World Politics Øystein Tunsjø, 2018-02-27 Since the collapse of the Soviet Union the international system has been unipolar centered on the United States But the rise of China foreshadows a change in the distribution of power Øystein Tunsjø shows that the international system is moving toward a U S China standoff bringing us back to bipolarity a system in which no third power can challenge the top two The Return of Bipolarity in World Politics surveys the new era of superpowers to argue that the combined effects of the narrowing power gap between China and the United States and the widening power gap between China and any third ranking power portend a new bipolar system that will differ in crucial ways from that of the last century Tunsj expands Kenneth N Waltz s structural realist theory to examine the new bipolarity within the context of geopolitics which he calls geostructural realism He considers how a new bipolar system will affect balancing and stability in U S China relations predicting that the new bipolarity will not be as prone to arms races as the previous era s that the risk of limited war between the two superpowers is likely to be higher in the coming bipolarity especially since the two powers are primarily rivals at sea rather than on land and that the superpowers are likely to be preoccupied with rivalry and conflict in East Asia instead of globally Tunsj presents a major challenge to how international relations understands superpowers in the twenty first century
