Athanassopoulos,2017-02-28 This volume presents the results of the medieval component of the Nemea Valley Archaeological Project NVAP survey conducted from 1985 1990 The archaeological evidence points to a proliferation of sites dating to the 12th 13th century A D There are two large sites and a substantial number of small sites on the lower slopes of the hills surrounding the Nemea Valley and in smaller valleys in the southern part of the survey area Archaeological evidence of settlements from the late

13th 15th century is scarce providing a contrast to the patterns documented for the 12th late 13th century This study is thus also concerned with general trends and important sociopolitical changes that affected such developments in the Nemea region in the medieval period Achaïos Evangelia Papadopoulou,Vassilis Chrysikopoulos,Gioulika Christakopoulou,2016-07-10 In Achaïos thirty five scholars from six different countries have contributed with thirty one papers as a small token of appreciation gratitude and affection to a true scholar who devoted his life studying and revealing the long journeys of the Mycenaeans and their culture Forestry and British Timber ,1991 The Rise of Gay Rights and the Fall of the British Empire David A. J. Richards,2013-04-22 This book argues that there is an important connection between ethical resistance to British imperialism and the ethical discovery of gay rights By closely examining the roots of liberal resistance in Britain and resistance to patriarchy in the United States this book shows that fighting the demands of patriarchal manhood and womanhood plays an important role in countering imperialism Advocates of feminism and gay rights in particular the Bloomsbury Group in Britain play an important public function in the criticism of imperialism because they resist the gender binary s role in rationalizing sexism and homophobia in both public and private life The connection between the rise of gay rights and the fall of empire illuminates larger questions of the meaning of democracy and of universal human rights as shared human values that have appeared since World War II The book also casts doubt on the thesis that arguments for gay rights must be extrinsic to democracy and that they must reflect Western as opposed to African or Asian values To the contrary gay rights arise from within liberal democracy and its critics polemically use such opposition to cover and rationalize their own failures of democracy The Regional Production of Red Figure Pottery Stine Schierup,Victoria Sabetai,2014-10-27 In the latter part of the fifth century BC regional red figure productions were established outside Attica in regional Greece and in the western Mediterranean propelled by the impact of the art of Attic vase painting This collection of papers addresses key issues posed by these production centres Why did they emerge To what degree was their inception prompted by the emigration of Attic craftsmen in the context of the weakened Attic pottery market at the onset of the Peloponnesian War How did Attic vase painting influence already existing traditions and what was selected adopted or adapted at the receiving end Who was using red figure in mainland Greece and Italy and what were its particular functions in the local cultures These and more questions are addressed here with the presentation not only of syntheses but also primary publication of much newly discovered material Regional production centres covered include those of Euboea Boeotia Corinth Laconia Macedonia Ambracia Lucania Apulia Sicily Locri and Etruria Naval Warfare and Maritime Conflict in the Late Bronze and Early Iron Age Mediterranean Jeffrey P. Emanuel,2020-11-04 In Naval Warfare and Maritime Conflict in the Late Bronze and Early Iron Age Mediterranean Jeffrey P Emanuel examines the evidence for maritime violence in the Mediterranean region during both the Late Bronze Age and the tumultuous transition to the Early Iron Age in the years surrounding the turn of the 12th century BCE There has traditionally been little differentiation between the methods of armed conflict engaged in during the Late Bronze and Early Iron Ages on both the coasts and the open seas while polities have been alternately characterized as legitimate martial actors and as state sponsors of piracy By utilizing material documentary and iconographic evidence and delineating between the many forms of armed conflict Emanuel provides an up to date assessment not only of the nature and frequency of warfare raiding piracy and other forms of maritime conflict in the Late Bronze Age and Late Bronze Early Iron Age transition but also of the extent to which modern views about this activity remain the product of inference and speculation Metallurgy Philip P. Betancourt, Susan C. Ferrence, 2011-12-31 Prof James D Muhly has enjoyed a distinguished career in the study of ancient history archaeology and metallurgy that includes an emeritus professorship at the University of Pennsylvania and a term as director of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens as well as receiving the Archaeological Institute of America's Pomeroy Award for Scientific Contributions to Archaeology In Muhly's honor a total of 38 eminent scholars have contributed 30 articles that include topics on Bronze and Iron Age metallurgy around the Eastern Mediterranean in such places as Crete the Cyclades Cyprus and Turkey TransAntiquity Domitilla Campanile, Filippo Carlà-Uhink, Margherita Facella, 2017-02-03 TransAntiquity explores transgender practices in particular cross dressing and their literary and figurative representations in antiquity It offers a ground breaking study of cross dressing both the social practice and its conceptualization and its interaction with normative prescriptions on gender and sexuality in the ancient Mediterranean world Special attention is paid to the reactions of the societies of the time the impact transgender practices had on individuals symbolic and social capital as well as the reactions of institutionalized power and the juridical systems The variety of subjects and approaches demonstrates just how complex and widespread transgender dynamics were in antiquity Community Identity and Archaeology Naoise Mac Sweeney, 2011-10-25 Community Identity and Archaeology explores the concept of community identity and its application in archaeology using the modern Turkish sites of Aphrodisias and Beycesultan as case studies to illustrate the formation and dissolution of communities over time The concept of the community is vital to the way we understand human societies both past and present and the last decade has seen widespread interest in communities from both the popular and academic spheres The concept is also central to archaeology where the relationship between sites and communities remains controversial Naoise Mac Sweeney aims to take the debate one step further setting out a comprehensive framework for the archaeological investigation of community identity encompassing theoretical approaches for its conceptualization practical methodologies for its investigation and detailed case studies in Anatolia to test and illustrate its arguments This book contributes to discussions in archaeological theory and material culture studies and is particularly relevant to archaeologists working on different types of cultural identity Community Identity and Archaeology's readership will include undergraduate and graduate students as well as academic specialists In addition the book contains material of direct historical interest for Classics and Near Eastern departments It includes valuable new research relevant for those working on Aegean Mycenaean or Early Greek antiquity as well as specialists in Anatolia including scholars working on the Hittite Phrygian and Lydian empires

The Archaeology of Late Bronze Age Interaction and Mobility at the Gates of Europe Francesco Iacono, 2018-12-27

Interaction and mobility have attracted much interest in research within scholarly fields as different as archaeology history and more broadly the humanities. Critically assessing some of the most widespread views on interaction and its social impact, this book proposes an innovative perspective which combines radical social theory and currently burgeoning network methodologies. Through an in-depth analysis of a wealth of data, often difficult to access and illustrated by many diagrams and maps, the book highlights connections and their social implications at different scales ranging from the individual settlement to the Mediterranean. The resulting diachronic narrative explores social and economic trajectories over some seven centuries and sheds new light on the broad historical trends affecting the life of people living around the Middle Sea. The Bronze Age is the first period of intense interaction between early state societies of the Eastern Mediterranean and the small-scale communities to the west of Greece, with people and goods moving at a scale previously unprecedented. This encounter is explored from the vantage point of one of its main foci, Apulia, located in the southern Adriatic at the junction between East and West and the entryway of one of the major routes for the resource-rich European continent.
