A Reading of The Golden Notebook by Doris Lessing, 1979 Contemporary Women Writers Look Back Alice Ridout, 2011-01-13 Long before John Barth announced in his famous 1967 essay that late 20th century fiction was The Literature of Exhaustion authors have been retelling and recycling stories Barth was however right to identify in postmodern fiction a particular self-consciousness about its belatedness at the end of a long literary tradition This book traces the move in contemporary women's writing from the self-conscious ironic parodies of postmodernism to the nostalgic and historical turn of the 21st century It analyses how contemporary women writers deal with their literary inheritances offering an illuminating and provocative study of contemporary women writers re writings of previous texts and stories Through close readings of novels by key contemporary women writers including Toni Morrison Doris Lessing Margaret Atwood Zadie Smith Emma Tennant and Helen Fielding and of the ITV adaptation Lost in Austen Alice Ridout examines the politics of parody and nostalgia exploring the limitations and possibilities of both in the contexts of feminism and postcolonialism

Real Politics Jean Bethke Elshtain, 2000-03-10 One of America's foremost public intellectuals Jean Bethke Elshtain has been on the frontlines in the most hotly contested and deeply divisive issues of our time Now in Real Politics Elshtain gives further proof of her willingness to speak her mind courting disagreement and even censure from those who prefer their ideologies neat At the center of Elshtain's work is a passionate concern with the relationship between political rhetoric and political action For Elshtain politics is a sphere of concrete responsibility Political speech should therefore approach the richness of actual lives and commitments rather than present impossible utopias In her essays Elshtain finds in the writings of Václav Havel Hannah Arendt and Albert Camus a language appropriate to the complexity of everyday life and politics and she critiques philosophers and writers who distance us from a concrete embodied world She argues against those repressive strains within contemporary feminism which insist that families and even sexual differentiation are inherently oppressive Along the way she challenges an ideology of victimization that too often loses sight of individual victims in its pursuit of abstract goals Elshtain reaffirms the quirky and by no means simple pleasures of small town life as a microcosm of the human condition and considers the current crisis in American education and its consequences for democracy Beyond exploring the details of political life over the past two decades Real Politics advocates a via media politics that avoids unacceptable extremes and serves as a model for responsible political discourse Throughout her diverse and insightful writings Elshtain champions a civic philosophy that tends to the dignity of everyday life as a democratic imperative of the first order Jean Bethke Elshtain is a person of rare intellect The moral wisdom that pervades these essays reminds us that when all is said and done politics is about the life and death of real people who are anything but abstractions Her erudition is remarkable but equally stunning is her eye for the significant What she is so good at is helping us see the moral and political significance of the everyday Stanley Hauerwas Duke University Real Politics serves as a forceful reminder that Jean Elshtain has been dealing with the real world in twenty five years of powerful essaying Transcending ideological categories she writes out of hope that human beings can enjoy those capacities of reason and faith which make them human It is a pleasure to be reintroduced to her sustained intelligence Alan Wolfe Boston University

Handbook of the English Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Christoph Reinfandt, 2017-06-12 The Handbook systematically charts the trajectory of the English novel from its emergence as the foremost literary genre in the early twentieth century to its early twenty first century status of eccentric eminence in new media environments Systematic chapters address The English Novel as a Distinctly Modern Genre The Novel in the Economy Genres Gender performativity masculinities feminism queer and The Burden of Representation class and ethnicity Extended contextualized close readings of more than twenty key texts from Joseph Conrad s Heart of Darkness 1899 to Tom McCarthy s Satin Island 2015 supplement the systematic approach and encourage future research by providing overviews of reception and theoretical perspectives

The Other Side of the Story Molly Hite, 2018-03-05 According to Molly Hite a number of influential contemporary women novelists notably Jean Rhys Doris Lessing Alice Walker and Margaret Atwood attempt innovations in narrative form that are more radical in their implications than the dominant modes of fictional experimentation characterized as postmodernist In The Other Side of the Story Hite makes the point that these innovations which distinguish the genre she calls contemporary feminist narrative are more radical precisely because their context is the critique of a culture and a literary tradition apprehended as profoundly masculinist

Libidinal Currents Joseph Allen Boone, 1998-02-28 From Kate Chopin and Virginia Woolf to William Faulkner and Doris Lessing modern fiction surges with libidinal currents The most powerful of these fictions are not merely about sex rather they attempt to incorporate the workings of eros into their narrative forms In doing so Joseph Allen Boone argues these modern fictions of sexuality create a politics and poetics of the perverse with the power to transform how we think about and read modernism Challenging overarching theories of the novel by carefully mapping the historical contexts that have influenced modern experimental narratives Boone constructs a model for interpreting sexuality that reaches from Freud s theory of the libidinal instincts to Foucault s theory of sexual discourse The most ambitious study yet written on the links between literary modernity and the psychology of sex Boone s Libidinal Currents will be a landmark book in the study of

The Macmillan Dictionary of Biography Barry Owen Jones, Meredith Vibart Dixon, 1981-06-18     The Short Story of the Novel Henry Russell, 2024-08-08 A fascinating and innovative introduction to the best works of fiction from the last 500 years Simply constructed the book explores 60 key novels from The Tale of Genji to My Brilliant Friend In addition to enjoyable descriptions of the novels and concise explanations of why they are important the book illuminates the most significant writing genres themes and techniques Accessible and fun to read with a foreword by Professor Peter Boxall this pocket guide will give readers a new way to enjoy their favourite books and to discover new ones     The Technology of the Novel Tony E. Jackson, 2009-06-29 2009 Outstanding Academic Title Choice The connection between speech and writing in human language has been a matter of philosophical debate since antiquity By plumbing the depths of this complex relationship Tony E Jackson explains how the technology of alphabetic writing has determined the nature of the modern novel Jackson's analysis begins with the universal human act of oral storytelling While telling stories is fundamental to human experience writing is not Yet the novel perhaps more than any other literary form depends on writing In fact as Jackson shows quite clearly it is writing rather than print that most shapes the forms and contents of the genre Through striking new readings of works by Austen Mary Shelley Dickens Forster Woolf Lessing and McEwan Jackson reveals how the phenomena of speech and storytelling interact with the technological characteristics of writing He also explains how those interactions induced the generic changes in the novel from its eighteenth century beginnings to postmodernism and beyond His claims grounded in a contemporary understanding of human cognitive capacities and constraints offer a fresh interpretive approach to all written literature An essential text in the study of the written word The Technology of the Novel provides new insights into the evolving nature of one of the modern world's most popular narrative forms     The New York Public Library's Books of
