LAB EXERCISE 5: Lizard Evolution Virtual Lab

Answer the following questions as you finish each module in the virtual lab.

MODULE 1: Introduction

At the beginning of the virtual lab, you were asked to select eight lizards into categories. What criteria did you use to select your groups?

My criteria were size, color, and shape of the lizards.

Did your criteria yield similar results? Why?

Yes, because the criteria I used, size, color, and shape, are all physical traits that can be used to distinguish between different groups of lizards.

An adaptation is a structure or function that the organism has as a population because it increases the ability to survive and reproduce in a particular environment. Provide one example and an explanation of an adaptation in the desert lizard.

One example of an adaptation is the ability to store water in the body. This is a survival adaptation because it allows the lizard to survive in the desert where there is no water.

Provide one evolutionary explanation for why desert lizards do not have long tails. (i.e., the group would have lost a characteristic.)

One evolutionary explanation is that long tails are a disadvantage in the desert because they are easy to lose and they are a burden on the lizard's movement.
