no princess to be rescued WoW is an immersive virtual world in which characters must cope in a dangerous environment assume identities struggle to understand and communicate learn to use technology and compete for dwindling resources Beyond the fantasy and science fiction details as many have noted it s not entirely unlike today s world In The Warcraft Civilization sociologist William Sims Bainbridge goes further arguing that WoW can be seen not only as an allegory of today but also as a virtual prototype of tomorrow of a real human future in which tribe like groups will engage in combat over declining natural resources build temporary alliances on the basis of mutual self interest and seek a set of values that transcend the need for war What makes WoW an especially good place to look for insights about Western civilization Bainbridge says is that it bridges past and future It is founded on Western cultural tradition yet aimed toward the virtual worlds we could create in times to come

In the House of the Serpent Handler Julia C. Duin, 2024-01-12 In the House of the Serpent Handler offers an intimate and engrossing look at the latest generation of Pentecostal believers who take up venomous snakes as a test of their religious faith Focusing on several preachers and their families in six Appalachian states journalist Julia C Duin explores the impact that such twenty first century phenomena as social media and reality television have had on rituals long practiced in obscurity As Duin reveals the mortal snakebite suffered by pastor Mack Wolford in 2012 marked the passing of the torch to younger preachers Jamie Coots and Andrew Hamblin who were featured in the 2013 series Snake Salvation on the National Geographic Channel Seeing their participation in the show as a way of publicizing their faith and thus winning converts Coots and Hamblin attempted to reinvent the snake handling tradition for a modern audience The use of the internet particularly Facebook became another key part of their strategy to spread their particular brand of Christianity However Coots s own death in 2014 was widely reported after the TV series was canceled while Hamblin who emerges as the central figure in the book was arrested and tried after a shooting incident involving his estranged wife His hopes of becoming a serpent handling superstar seemingly dashed Hamblin spent several months in prison emerging more determined than ever to keep to the faith By the end of the narrative he has begun a new church where he can pass on the tradition to yet another generation Duin s thorough sympathetic reporting and lively style bring the ecstatic church services she witnessed vividly to life and through interviews and quotations from the principals Facebook postings she has allowed them to express their beliefs and reveal their everyday lives in their own words She also gives the reader an up close view of how a reporter pursues a story and the various difficulties encountered along the way Together these elements frame a striking picture the young practitioners of a century old custom one so often dismissed as bizarre by outsiders adjusting to the challenges of the new millennium Julia C Duin the former religion editor for the Washington Times has published articles in the Washington Post the Wall Street Journal and other national publications She is the author of five previous books including most recently Days of Fire and Glory The Rise and Fall of a Charismatic Community Building Community in Buildings Ken Baker, Jana M. Kemp, 2006-11-30. Building Community in Buildings takes us on a fascinating journey through workplaces large and small, old and new, traditional and contemporary to explore the dynamic relationships between people and the structures in which they work. Noting that a child born today will spend 90 percent of his or her life inside, Jana Kemp and Ken Baker integrate insights from management and building design to reveal new understandings about workplace productivity and performance. Showcasing dozens of examples from office buildings to libraries to hospitals, the authors highlight innovative practices that utilize space to promote creativity and collaboration, improve morale and motivation, and ensure employee health and safety. Featuring over a dozen photographs, practical recommendations, and the tools to conduct a workplace design survey in your own organization, Building Community in Buildings ultimately demonstrates that by investing in spaces that support people's needs, companies will strengthen bottom-line results. Building Community in Buildings takes us on a fascinating journey through workplaces large and small, old and new, traditional and contemporary to explore the dynamic relationships between people and the structures in which they work. Consider that in the 1950s, average North Americans spent approximately 50 percent of their time in buildings, compared to a child born today who will spend 90 percent of his or her life inside. Clearly and increasingly, our social and cultural relationships are deeply influenced by the physical spaces in which they are created. Jana Kemp and Ken Baker integrate insights from management and building design to reveal new understandings about workplace productivity and performance. Showcasing dozens of examples from the redesign of the Hood River Library in Oregon with input from front-line employees to the creation of open, naturally lit spaces in Lockheed Building 157, increasing employee productivity by 15%, the authors highlight innovative practices that utilize space to promote creativity and collaboration, improve morale and motivation, and ensure employee health and safety. They also explore the pros and cons of virtual workplaces in which people are connected electronically but not physically and trace the impact and influences of such trends as the green building movement. Featuring over a dozen photographs, practical recommendations, and the tools to conduct a workplace design survey in your own organization, Building Community in Buildings ultimately demonstrates that by investing in spaces that
