

Jane Eyre

Study Guide Questions

Chapter One

1. How does the narrator reveal her unusual social background?
The narrator is orphaned, poor, and alone. Her father's last recommendation is to send her to the orphanage where she is about to begin her education.
2. Why does Jane refuse her education?
Her education gets away from her health and her independence.
 - a. What does her personal education accomplish for her?
It teaches her to be independent in her own mind and to be self-reliant.
3. Why does Jane have a strong feeling about her education, particularly in relation to her future independence?
Jane's sense of her own independence is very much increased through her experience with her current situation.
4. What does the narrator tell us about the way she is treated in the first chapter?
She is treated as an outcast by her father and her mother. She is treated as a child and not as a woman. She is treated as a servant and not as a person. She is treated as a stranger and not as a friend. She is treated as a person and not as a thing.
5. Is Jane justified in leaving in the first chapter's ending? Why or why not? (What message does the book try to send you about?)
Jane is justified in leaving in the first chapter's ending. She is not only a person but also a woman. She is not only a person but also a woman. She is not only a person but also a woman.

Chapter Two

1. How does the book try to send you about the first chapter's ending?
The book tries to send you about the first chapter's ending by showing you the first chapter's ending.
