Dear Mr. Thompson,

December 18, 2023

As a seasoned special education paraprofessional with 4.5 years under my belt and a sincere dedication to nurturing children, I'm confident I would bring unique skills and experiences to the Ransom Everglades School. Like the intricate art of sign language, I thrive in environments that challenge my ability to communicate sensitively and implement behavior management techniques and crisis intervention training.

As an experienced paraprofessional at Jose De Diego Middle School, I was deeply involved in managing the behavior of students with varying abilities— a process that required both skill and tact. My ability to defuse emerging crises reduced behavioral incidents by 18% within my first year. Consider me an individual who taps into the power of sign language to build bridges and quell storms.

Before Jose De Diego, I served as a crisis Interventionist at Morningside K-8 Academy. Here, I applied de-escalation procedures in high-intensity situations involving students with severe behavioral issues. My proactive approach saw a reduction in critical incidents by 19%, improving the overall classroom environment. Regular collaboration with therapists, teachers, and administration resulted in tailored intervention plans that met each student's unique needs.

Stepping slightly back, Miami Lakes Educational Center handed me my first opportunity to combine innovation with empathy. Serving non-verbal students with exceptionalities, I integrated sign language with assistive technology, including tools like Proloquo2Go and Boardmaker. This marrying of traditional and technological methods saw an incredible increase in student engagement, pushing the boundaries of effective learning.

I'm excited to bring my multifaceted skill set and passion for special education to Ransom Everglades School. Let's discuss how my experience in behavior management, crisis intervention, and more can further your mission to provide top-tier education for all students.

Thank you,

Stella Lefevre

representation amongst minoritized populations without making considerations for structure and support has been the primary model for diversifying the academy for the past 40 years. Within the context of higher education and diversity, our conversation shifts beyond ensuring marginalized communities are represented. Within each chapter, the contributing authors address a wide range of diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging topics that are unique to their positionality as educators in the postsecondary sector. As editors, we intentionally identify authors with diverse professional backgrounds who offer a range in their approaches to addressing emergent trends in their respective areas in higher education. In addition to submitting manuscripts that engage critical examinations of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the postsecondary sector, authors were encouraged to design supplemental material for their chapters, such as training modules, study guides, case studies, guides for utilizing critical research approaches, and design and interactive activities that can be replicated in various settings on campus, e.g., the classroom, residence halls, student organization trainings, etc. Resources in Education, 1991
